St Andrews has been an eye-opening and holistic experience, both academically and otherwise. The structure of the curriculum allows you to explore your academic strengths and weaknesses, helping you refine the subject you truly wish to study.

Shaik – Current student Singapore, MA (Hons) International Relations and Economics
At St Andrews we offer a four-year Honours degree pathway as standard which is different from the English system. We have four Faculties – Arts, Divinity, Medicine and Science. You may choose the Faculty in which you want to study based upon your qualifications and interests. Please note, in the Faculty of Arts the degree is called a Master of Arts (MA) which is equivalent to a Bachelor of Arts (BA).

Students are admitted to a specific degree programme within one of our four Faculties. This provides breadth and flexibility as you can drop and pick up subjects over the first two years, allowing you to settle on your chosen degree path at the end of Year 2. Students in all Faculties (except Medicine) will begin by taking three subjects in Year 1.

Example degree structure

MA (Master of Arts) Honours

| Year 1 subjects: | A | B | C |
| Year 2 subjects: | A | B | C | or | D |
| Year 3 subjects: | A | |
| Year 4 subjects: | A | |

BSc (Bachelor of Science) Honours

| Year 1 subjects: | A | B | C |
| Year 2 subjects: | A | B |
| Year 3 subjects: | A | |
| Year 4 subjects: | A | |

I studied hard at university and built up a strong academic record which proved to my employer that I have the technical aptitude and work ethic to be an actuary. My actuarial internship enhanced my understanding of what actuaries do and provided me with valuable experiences to draw upon in my interviews. The sport I played at university and my work experience in retail acted as evidence of my ability to get on with others and function as part of a team.

Latin American students feel comfortable and confident with the small learning environment, individualised student support, and the wide variety of clubs and societies. Graduate destinations

American students graduating from St Andrews go on to a wide and diverse set of destinations following their time at St Andrews. Within six months of graduation 28.7% of US students are enrolled in further study and a further 64.8% are involved in employment, of which 85% are in professional roles. 67.6% of US students decide to start their career or continue their studies outside of the UK following graduation.

In addition to offering expertise and resources for students interested in working in the UK, the University of St Andrews also places a high importance on supporting international students who are interested in returning to their own markets. We have a well-developed Alumni Network active across the US and the University regularly hosts 10 summer networking sessions across North America as well as a yearly Alumni Career Forum in New York City in January. In 2015 we had over 600 participants across our North American-based events. We also run US-based ‘treks’ for students to engage directly with US-based employers, and host virtual Q&A sessions with a variety of American employers for our students.

“

A number of our students have attended St Andrews over the past decade. Without exception, they have found it a wonderful educational experience: a historical international setting, a flexible and appropriately challenging curriculum, with a variety of academic options, bright and interesting fellow students, accessible staff who care about teaching, and easy access to the European continent for travel and study. No college is paradise, but St Andrews comes close.
