Introduction to Corporate Identity Guidelines

The University is committed to ensuring that its visual and design identity is presented in a clear and consistent manner across all print and digital publications.

These Guidelines provide an important reference to ensure that all key visual elements, the colour palette and typography are consistently applied across all our communication materials.

Correct usage of the design guidelines, and the University crest, is imperative in all official publications, both print and digital, and in general communications.

In instances where the guidelines have not been followed, the University may insist on corrections to ensure appropriate presentation.

The designs and layouts shown in this document are officially approved and devised to allow flexibility of use. It is vital however that the logos are used exactly as described (and also when downloaded from the website) to maintain a coherent and distinctive identity for the University. For example, alternative graphics must not be used in the shield or close to the logo (see page 5) and the University name is always to be included.

Please note no other logos and branding are acceptable.

Only in very exceptional cases will additional or stand-alone logos and brand expressions be considered for Schools, Units or services. Approval will only be given by the Director of Corporate Communications once it has been demonstrated in a detailed report that a clear academic or market imperative underlines the requirement for another logo or brand. Please send your request in the first instance to: printanddesign@st-andrews.ac.uk

Signage and vehicle livery – for any requests relating to new or replacement signs outside and within University buildings or livery on vehicles, contact Gill Marks in Estates. E: signage@st-andrews.ac.uk T: (01334 46)3987.

For all enquiries on the application of the University of St Andrews corporate identity, please contact Duncan Stewart. E: printanddesign@st-andrews.ac.uk T: (01334 46)3020.

An online version of the Corporate Identity Guidelines and also information on downloading both colour and monochrome versions of the Standard and Foundation logos, are available at: www.st-andrews.ac.uk/brand

‘Reversed’ versions for dark backgrounds:

The Standard Horizontal logo:

The Foundation (1413) Horizontal logo:

All of the elements that make up the logos have been designed to work in a fixed relationship with one another to produce maximum visual impact.

None of the elements of the logos and their relationships should ever be altered or modified in any way or different graphics placed close to the logo (see page 5) or in the shield. For example the shield must not be produced on its own without the University name unless in exceptional circumstances and discussed with Publications in the first instance.

All the logos are shown both in colour and in single colour. The colour versions must not be used in single colour. The University name is in Palatino font. See page 7 for Pantone colours.

When printing the logos on a dark background a ‘reversed’ version should be used, examples of which are shown opposite. Please request the appropriate files from: printanddesign@st-andrews.ac.uk

The logos (PNG format) can be downloaded from: www.st-andrews.ac.uk/brand

If you require EPS vector files please contact: printanddesign@st-andrews.ac.uk

The Standard Vertical logo is made up of two elements: the shield with the University’s name underneath.

The Foundation (1413) Vertical logo is made up of three graphic elements: the shield, the University of St Andrews name below and ‘Founded 1413’ contained within two keylines.

The Standard Horizontal logo is made up of two elements: the shield with the University’s name to the right.

The Foundation (1413) Horizontal logo is made up of three graphic elements: the shield, the University of St Andrews name to the right and the ‘Founded 1413’ device contained within the two keylines.

Logos – Minimum Reproduction Sizes

There is a minimum reproduction size for the logos to ensure that the University name is still legible and also that the lines do not merge in the single colour versions. NB The colour versions are not to be used as single colour.

The minimum reproduction height for the Standard Vertical colour logo is 12mm.

For the Foundation (1413) Vertical colour logo the minimum height is 18mm.

For the Standard Vertical single colour logo the minimum height is 18mm.

For the Foundation (1413) Vertical single colour logo the minimum height is 26mm.

For the Horizontal colour logos the minimum height is 7mm.

For the Horizontal single colour logos the minimum height is 13mm.

In particular circumstances (for example merchandise/small gift items) where the single colour logos are required below the minimum sizes, or where the detail will not hold up because of the process used, please contact: printanddesign@st-andrews.ac.uk
Logos – Clear Space Rules

The Standard Vertical logo minimum clear space:

There is a minimum clear space around the logos, indicated by the outer keyline boxes. This clear space distance is half the height of the crest within the logo.

No typography, illustration, photography or other graphic device must ever encroach upon this area.

For Minimum Reproduction Sizes, please see page 4.
Charity Information

As an organisation which is registered in Scotland as a charity, the University must publicise its charitable status. It is required to provide this information in all external documents and communications both print and electronic.

The Office of the Scottish Charity Regulator has provided a list of documents which must comply:

- External letters and emails.
- The University website.
- Advertisements, notices and official publications.
- Documents that ask for donations to the University.
- Bills issued.
- Invoices and receipts.
- Annual accounts.
- Direct debit and standing order mandates.
- Educational, promotional or campaign materials.
- Legal conveyance documents about land rights (buying, selling or transferring land).
- Contracts.

Therefore, please ensure that all relevant materials include the information which should be presented in this way (the 0 is a zero):

The University of St Andrews is a charity registered in Scotland, No: SC013532

Illustrated opposite are examples of where the University’s charity information is featured.

There are four primary colours that make up the University of St Andrews corporate identity, with St Andrews Blue being the core corporate colour. A palette of secondary colours has been selected to complement the primary colours. These will be used throughout our identity to add diversity and extend the scope and variety of colour and mood.

The University’s full colour logo uses Pantone 287 (blue), Pantone 485 (red), Pantone Yellow and Pantone Black.

Where necessary, tints of the colours illustrated may also be used to extend the colour palette. White is also an important colour for our palette. It should be used to create space and project a clean, modern and fresh presentation for all our layouts.

Consistent and accurate reproduction of all colours is essential to maintain the high quality appearance of the identity. A printed/screen colour will vary in shade and density depending on the surface/screen to which it is to be applied. To overcome this, all colours must be matched to our approved colour swatches. Never use a previously produced item as a colour reference. The CMYK colour breakdowns shown here are a guide only for process colour printing and should be visually matched to the Pantone colour references given. The RGB and Hex colour breakdowns will vary with screen calibration.

For University webpages, the digital colours are based on this palette, however sometimes they are adjusted for web accessibility purposes. For further information see the Digital Pattern Library: www.st-andrews.ac.uk/dpl

The colours shown on this page and throughout these guidelines have not been evaluated by Pantone, Inc. for accuracy and may not match the PANTONE® Colour Standard. Consult current PANTONE® colour publications for accurate colour. PANTONE® is the property of Pantone, Inc.

Primary typeface – Palatino Regular, Italic, Bold and Bold Italic should mainly be used for large and small headings. The equivalent typeface on PCs is either Palatino Linotype or Book Antiqua.

Secondary typeface

Myriad Pro Regular

ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ
abcdefghijklmnopqrstuvwxyz
1234567890 !@£&?()%;

1234567890 !@£&?()%;

Myriad Pro Black

abcdefghijklmnopqrstuvwxyz
1234567890 !@£&?()%;

Secondary typeface – The Myriad Pro family of typefaces should be used for body copy and captions. This font family has a contemporary appearance and is easy to read. The range offers scope for typographic design and enables us to create a distinctive house style.

If your computer does not have these typefaces they can be downloaded from the internet. Alternatively, Arial may be used instead of Myriad Pro and Georgia instead of Palatino / Palatino Linotype / Book Antiqua when creating your own documents, if not having them professionally designed or typeset. (Please contact Print & Design for help and advice regarding our professional design and layout service. T: 01334 463020 E: printanddesign@st-andrews.ac.uk)

For all screen-based communications, such as PowerPoint, and Word templates, Palatino / Palatino Linotype / Book Antiqua should be replaced with Georgia and Myriad Pro should be replaced with Arial. Georgia and Arial are readily available on PCs and will avoid the reflow of typesetting on computers.

For University webpages, there are two main typefaces used: PT Sans and PT Serif. These are equivalent web fonts to the primary and secondary University typefaces. For more information see the Digital Pattern Library at: www.st-andrews.ac.uk/dpl

‘Reversed’ versions for dark backgrounds:

Illustrated opposite are the logo designs for use on clothing or gift items, which incorporate the name of your School/Department/Unit or club/society.

For these specific cases the Clear Space Rule (see page 5) may be relaxed in the ways shown.

All the designs are shown both in colour and also single colour. The colour versions must not be used in single colour. When printing the logos on a dark background a ‘reversed’ version should be used (see page 3). See page 7 for Pantone colours.

The University name is in Palatino font. The School/Department/Unit/club/society name uses the contrasting University Sans-Serif font Myriad Pro – if Myriad Pro is not available, Arial can be used as an alternative.

When using these designs, text sizes need to be carefully readjusted to maintain a comfortable balance between the elements.

Print & Design can produce the logos for you – please make a request by providing all the details and email: printanddesign@st-andrews.ac.uk

There will be a small charge for this service, please see: www.st-andrews.ac.uk/printanddesign/prices

In particular circumstances where the single colour logos are required at a size where the detail will not hold up because of the process used, then please contact: printanddesign@st-andrews.ac.uk
Illustrated opposite are vertical logo designs for use on printed items such as advertisements, flyers, posters, leaflets and brochures. They are only for use by University Schools/Departments and Units. These incorporate the name of your academic School/Department or Service Unit.

The designs are shown both in full colour and single colour versions. The full colour versions must not be used in single colour. When printing the logos on a dark background a ‘reversed’ version should be used. See page 7 for Pantone colours.

The University name is in Palatino font. The School/Department or Unit name uses the contrasting sans-serif font Myriad Pro SemiExtended – if Myriad Pro SemiExtended is not available, Myriad Pro Regular or Arial can be used as an alternative.

These logos are made up of three graphic elements: the Standard Vertical University logo (see page 3), a keyline below (size and position as for the Foundation Vertical logo, see page 3) and, centred below that, the School/Department or Unit name (positioned the same distance from the keyline as the University name). “School of,” “Department of” or any detailed text should be approximately the size of “University of”. The actual School/Department or Unit name should be about a third larger than this.

Print & Design can produce the logos for you, please email: printanddesign@st-andrews.ac.uk

Logos produced to order will be set up at the minimum size with a margin indicating the clear space area. They will be supplied as EPS vector graphics and PNG files.

If the single colour logos are being used in a way where the detailed hatching will not hold (e.g. at a small size or due to a process such as embossing or engraving), please request an alternative version from: printanddesign@st-andrews.ac.uk

The minimum height for the colour shield is 9mm

The minimum height for the single colour shield is 13mm

The minimum clear space is half the height of the shield

"Reversed" versions for dark backgrounds:
School/Unit Logos for Print Use – Horizontal Versions

The minimum height for the horizontal full colour logo is 7mm

Illustrated opposite are horizontal logo designs for use on printed items such as advertisements, flyers, posters, leaflets and brochures. They are only for use by University Schools/Departments and Units. These incorporate the name of your academic School/Department or Service Unit.

The designs are shown both in full colour and single colour versions. The full colour versions must not be used in single colour. When printing the logos on a dark background a ‘reversed’ version should be used. See page 7 for Pantone colours.

The University name is in Palatino font. The School/Department or Unit name uses the contrasting sans-serif font Myriad Pro SemiExtended – if Myriad Pro SemiExtended is not available, Myriad Pro Regular or Arial can be used as an alternative. For single word School/Department or Service Unit names Myriad Pro Light SemiExtended (or an equivalent) should be used to maintain a balance of letter weight.

These logos are made up of three graphic elements: the Standard Horizontal University logo (see page 3), the School/Department or Unit name (aligned to the right of the University logo text and at the clear space distance), and centred between the two, a vertical keyline (size and position as for the Foundation Horizontal logo, see page 3). Where practical, “School of,” “Department of” or any detailed text should be smaller than the actual School/Department or Unit name.

School/Unit Logos for Digital Use – Vertical and Horizontal Versions

Vertical School/Unit logos:

- The minimum height for the colour shield is 100 pixels.
- The minimum clear space is half the height of the shield.

‘Reversed’ versions for dark backgrounds:

Illustrated opposite are logo designs for digital use by University Schools/Departments and Units only.

The designs are shown in full colour and must not be used in single colour. When using the logos on a dark background a ‘reversed’ version should be used. See page 7 for Pantone colours.

The University name is in Palatino font. The School/Department or Unit name uses the contrasting sans-serif font Myriad Pro SemiExtended – if Myriad Pro SemiExtended is not available, Myriad Pro Regular or Arial can be used as an alternative.

The vertical logos are made up of three graphic elements: the Standard Vertical University logo (see page 3), a keyline below (size and position as for the Foundation Vertical logo, see page 3) and, centred below that, the School/Department or Unit name (positioned the same distance from the keyline as the University name). “School of”, “Department of” or any detailed text should be approximately the size of “University of”. The actual School/Department or Unit name should be about a third larger than this.

These horizontal logos are made up of three graphic elements: the Standard Horizontal University logo (see page 3), the School/Department or Unit name (aligned to the right of the University logo text and at the clear space distance), and centred between the two, a vertical keyline (size and position as for the Foundation Horizontal logo, see page 3). Where practical, “School of”, “Department of” or any detailed text should be smaller than the actual School/Department or Unit name.

Digital Communications can produce logos for Schools and Departments when required. Send an email to itservicedesk@st-andrews.ac.uk with the subject line “FAO: digital communications”.

Logos produced to order will be set up with a margin indicating the clear space area. They will be supplied as PNG files.
Compact horizontal logo (Digital):

- The minimum height for the horizontal logo is 100 pixels.
- The minimum clear space is half the height of the shield.

Social media logos:

Illustrated opposite are compact horizontal logo designs for digital use. They are alternative horizontal designs for use with School/Department or Service Unit names containing several words.

NB The logos on this page must not be used for print purposes.

The designs are shown in full colour and must not be used in single colour. When using the logos on a dark background a ‘reversed’ version should be used. See page 7 for Pantone colours.

The School/Department or Unit name uses the contrasting sans-serif font Myriad Pro SemiExtended – if Myriad Pro SemiExtended is not available, Myriad Pro Regular or Arial can be used as an alternative.

These logos are made up of three graphic elements: the University crest, the School/Department or Unit name (aligned to the right of the crest and at the clear space distance), and centred between the two, a vertical keyline (size and position as for the Foundation Horizontal logo, see page 3). Where practical, “School of”, “Department of” or any detailed text should be smaller than the actual School/Department or Unit name.

Social media logos

Also shown on this page are social media logos. These contain the University crest only and sit within a circle tinted with one of the corporate colours (see page 7).

The designs are different from the printed versions in that the University name does not appear below the crest. This is because the logos will often be used at a small size where the University name would be illegible.

Digital Communications can produce compact logos for Schools and Departments when required. Send an email to itservicedesk@st-andrews.ac.uk with the subject line “FAO: digital communications”.

Logos produced to order will be set up with a margin indicating the clear space area. They will be supplied as PNG files.

Large Format Academic Poster Templates

These academic poster templates are available for use by academic staff and postgraduate students in the University.

These templates are available as PowerPoint files at the standard sizes of A1 and A0 in both landscape and portrait format. They include the University logo, charity details, an indication of margins and a starting point for the title text and list of authors.

Each size is available in versions for use with a light background, dark background or light background with dark title header (and includes the appropriate white or black text version of the logo).

Templates can be downloaded from: www.st-andrews.ac.uk/brand

For details on the font to be used in the body text, please see page 8. High resolution graphics and photos are required. University photos can be viewed at: www.st-andrews.ac.uk/photo-gallery

Once completed, your poster must be saved as a PDF (using the high quality / print quality option if available) before being passed to Print & Design for production – please allow two working days.

Posters are normally printed on 260gsm semi-gloss (satin) paper. Other options (Economy, Polyester Canvas or Tyvek) are available on request. Completed PDFs with printing requirements and Cost Centre should be sent to: printanddesign@st-andrews.ac.uk

For prices and further details please see: www.st-andrews.ac.uk/printanddesign/printingandbinding/posters
University staff may use the pull-up banner templates.

A basic template that fits both our Standard and Economy banner stands is available as a PowerPoint file (visible area 840mm wide by 1980mm tall). It includes the University logo, charity details, an indication of margins and a starting point for the title text. NB Please be aware that due to the limitations of PowerPoint, the template is set up at half the finished size.

The template is available in versions for use with a light background, dark background or light background with dark title header (and includes the appropriate colour logo with white or black University name).

Templates can be downloaded from: www.st-andrews.ac.uk/brand

Text or important parts of an image should not be positioned below the charity details / bottom margin as it risks disappearing into the base of the stand.

The web is the University's most important and complex communication tool.

Maintaining a consistent user experience, high standards of content and design, security standards and appropriate branding across the website is a key goal within the University Strategic Plan.

The Digital Communications Team, within Corporate Communications, exists to provide leadership for web development and expert support to Schools, Departments and Units to help realise this goal.

The Digital Communications Team has produced a set of standards to govern the creation and maintenance of University webpages to assist Schools, Units and Computing Officers to plan and deliver a secure and high quality user experience.

The guidelines for creating and maintaining University webpages can be found online in the Digital Standards Service manual at www.st-andrews.ac.uk/digital-standards/service-manual These guidelines cover web accessibility, house style, corporate identity, code standards and content standards.

All website pages, especially those which are externally facing, are under the remit of the Digital Communications Team and must adhere to the digital standards as defined by the guidelines.

All new projects involving the University website should be explicitly signed off by the Digital Communications Team in writing before they go live. The sign-off procedure for new website projects helps ensure all online content is consistent, user-friendly and in line with the University’s strategy.

If any new webpages or digital assets are published without express permission by Digital Communications, the University may request that the new pages are rolled back to their original state, or removed from the University website.
