Section A: Responsibilities to be assumed by the University of St Andrews

The University of St Andrews has a duty of care towards all staff and students, particularly those regarded by law as being most vulnerable. Although in Scotland a person is considered an adult from the age of 16, the Protection of Vulnerable Groups (Scotland) Act 2007, concerning the duty of care for children and vulnerable adults, applies to anyone under the age of 18. The University will take reasonable steps to protect the young people on the SAEC.

Staff provision, vetting and training

1. The University agrees to provide staff for the SAEC, to fulfil the roles of administration and teaching (University academic staff) as well as the organisation of social and sporting activities, and to provide pastoral care and in-hall supervision and assistance throughout the SAEC (the RA team).

2. The University will comply fully with the Protection of Vulnerable Groups Act 2007 to request that pastoral care staff who live on site with young persons as part of their role with the SAEC undergo the appropriate disclosure checks.

3. First Aid training will be provided to the RA team, as well as additional training in emergency and other policies and procedures relevant to the SAEC.

Disability Policy

4. The University provides support to students who declare a disability and have a range of reasonable adjustments that can be put in place. Please inform us soon as possible of any requirements. If the University has not been made fully aware of the requirements of a student with a disability during initial communications with the University, it cannot guarantee that suitable resources will be available on the student's arrival in St Andrews - although of course, every reasonable attempt shall be made.

Safety Information

5. The University agrees to take reasonable care to ensure that the SAEC students are informed of any possible risks and dangers during their time on the SAEC. An induction session, on or shortly after the day of arrival, will set out various procedures in relation to the premises to be used and the behaviour expected of the student, including but not limited to health and safety procedures, fire drills, rules relating to absence, discipline and sickness.

Travel and excursions

6. As part of the course fee, the University agrees to provide the SAEC students with transport to and from Edinburgh International Airport, Glasgow International Airport, or Leuchars Train Station on the official SAEC dates of arrival and departure only, with an official transport or taxi provider. Where this is not possible, the University will seek parental consent for any alternative arrangement. Students will not be collected from Edinburgh train stations or from Glasgow Prestwick airport. Students will not be accompanied by SAEC staff on these journeys, but the RA team aims to meet students on arrival at the approved airports and train station mentioned above.
7. The SAEC students will be accompanied by the SAEC staff on journeys to destinations listed in the social programme. Students will be permitted to explore the destination unsupervised, although they will be expected to remain in groups of two or more and must return to the designated meeting point on time. The RA team will request contact numbers, and students will be expected to carry a working and charged mobile phone with them at all times.

Accommodation and University Buildings

8. The SAEC students will be provided with full-board accommodation in Andrew Melville Hall or Agnes Blackadder Hall, in Multiple Occupation (HMO) Licensed University Halls of Residence that follow strict guidelines to ensure the Health and Safety of its residents. The hall catering staff will provide packed lunch in lieu of lunch in the hall itself, to facilitate a flexible day for students and staff.

Discipline

9. The University reserves the right to take disciplinary action if a student fails to meet the University’s expectations of conduct or fails to adhere to the SAEC Mutual Responsibilities Agreement (MRA). Disciplinary procedures will follow the principles of privacy and confidentiality.

10. Disciplinary procedures take into account the short length of the SAEC and seek to ensure that, as far as possible, disciplinary matters are addressed within the duration of the programme. Any, or any combination of the following penalties may be imposed by the University for misconduct:

   - oral reprimand, which may or may not be recorded in a student’s file;
   - request for compensation, in money or money’s worth representing the value of any property damaged and/or a fine;
   - suspension or dismissal from the SAEC at the discretion of the Short Courses Manager.

Delivery of the Summer Academic Experience Courses

11. The University endeavours to deliver the SAEC as it is set out in the brochure and online. In certain circumstances, the University may consider it appropriate to make changes to the individual courses within the SAEC, including cancellation of that course in exceptional circumstances. Should any student be affected by such changes the student will be given the option to continue with the amended course, or transfer to another course.

12. The University will not refund any tuition fees which may have been paid if such cancellation or variation of the SAEC is as a result of the occurrence of extraordinary events or circumstances beyond the University’s reasonable control, including acts of God, terrorism, industrial disputes (including industrial disputes from University employees), fire, flood, tempest and national emergencies.
Data Protection

13. Any information collected by the University is used fairly, stored safely and not disclosed to any other person unlawfully, in compliance with the data protection principles that are set out in the GDPR and the Data Protection Act 2018. Unless the University is informed otherwise, in writing:
