University of St Andrews

Donor Roll

1 August 2023 to 31 July 2024

We would like to thank all benefactors to the University of St Andrews for their generous support in 2023-2024. The following pages list all gifts, gifts in kind, and sponsorship through the Development Office during the University's financial year ending on 31 July 2024. In addition to the donors listed we are also grateful to the many who give to the University of St Andrews anonymously.

Leadership giving is based on gifts and pledges from August 2018 and can be found on pages 2 – 5. Donors to the University of St Andrews, giving from the United Kingdom and the Rest of the World, are listed on pages 6 – 32. Donors to the University of St Andrews American Foundation, Inc. appear on pages 33 – 40. Members of, and donors to the University of St Andrews German Association are on page 41. Donors to the University of St Andrews Hong Kong Foundation Limited appear on page 42. Legacies and members of the Chancellor's Circle are listed on pages 43 – 47. Campaign Giving on pages 48 – 49 recognises donors who have given £250,000 and above to University campaigns since August 2008.

In the centre pages you can read stories from two of our scholars, who are generously supported by donors to the University of St Andrews.

Every effort has been made to record gifts in accordance with our donors' wishes. If we have made any mistakes, please accept our apologies and let us know so that they can be corrected.

Donor Update

Our donors and friends support a broad range of projects that make a real difference to both undergraduate and postgraduate students, and to the wider community. Here is a brief overview of some of the fantastic things you have helped us to achieve in the past financial year.

During 2023–2024 our donors and friends have continued to show overwhelming support for the University. Thanks to you, we have raised £18.9 million towards Making Waves: The Campaign for St Andrews.

Your generosity has enabled us to pursue our four key Campaign projects: 'New College' – a home for the Business School and School of International Relations; a state-of-the-art Digital Nexus building for the School of Computer Science; undergraduate and postgraduate scholarships; and building on our endowment to provide long-term funding for Chairs and other academic appointments.

This is all the more inspirational since it has taken place within a challenging financial context for the higher education sector, with rising costs across a range of goods and services, ongoing geopolitical unrest and postgraduate and overseas recruitment instability.

You can hear from two of our scholars about the impact of your support in the pages that follow.

Thank you to each and every one of you. Together we can make waves and shape the future not only of our University but of our world.

Scholarship impact

Dylan Smith is in his second year studying medicine and surgery as an undergraduate at St Andrews on the ScotGEM course. Here he reflects on his experience of the course so far, and on how receiving the CJM Foundation Scholarship has supported his studies.

‘I’m in my second year on the ScotGEM course which, for those who aren’t familiar with it, is Graduate Entry Medicine with a focus on Scottish rural medicine. It has been an incredible year with many ups and downs. Exams have been stressful, but I have had so many great experiences both in my academics and beyond that I know will stay with me forever.

‘I am well on my way to becoming a doctor, which has always been my dream. The financial support of the CJM Foundation Scholarship is enabling that dream to become a reality.

‘I have studied a range of topics from neurodegenerative to cardiovascular conditions. Consultations with patients have been one of the best features of learning medicine and there have been so many opportunities to converse with them and have hands-on experience within a GP practice. It has been so helpful in teaching me about the realities of a career in medicine.

‘My favourite speciality is cardiology as I find the heart and all the disorders relating to it absolutely fascinating. I’m also tempted by a career in surgery.

‘I have travelled in Scotland to Skye, Edinburgh and Glasgow, and started several new hobbies in my spare time, including running, sea swimming, and golf. The support of my donors has allowed me time to pursue these activities alongside my studies without the need to balance a job on the side.

‘When I first moved to St Andrews, I thought I would return home to England after my studies, but I have completely fallen in love with Scotland and plan to stay here. I’d like to complete my training in Edinburgh.

‘Without my scholarship it wouldn’t have been possible for me to study at St Andrews and live in the town. Had I managed, I’d have had to work to cover my costs in addition to the long hours of study, which I know would have affected my academic performance. With the support of the CJM Foundation Scholarship, I am able to enjoy my studies and progress on my path to becoming a doctor.’

Annabel Crawshaw-Brown is in the third year of her PhD in Classics and is generously supported by the Ewan and Christine Brown Postgraduate Studentship in the Arts and Humanities.

‘My PhD research is on the embodied experience and social status in the ancient novel. Without the Ewan and Christine Brown Postgraduate Studentship I would have been unable to pursue this path.

‘I am now making the final edits to my thesis, aiming to submit in August 2025. I have been exploring the ways in which social status interacts with the embodied experience in two ancient novels, Petronius’ Satyricon and Apuleius’ Metamorphoses. I analyse case studies from the text alongside wider context, for example visual sources from Pompeii.

‘I was fortunate to be able to visit Naples for research. I visited Pompeii and the National Archaeological Museum of Naples and saw in real life some of the sources I have been writing about. This trip was so beneficial to my research and understanding and was partly funded by the School of Classics’ postgraduate travel fund but would not have been possible without the Ewan and Christine Brown Studentship.

‘I also co-organised a workshop about senses and disability in the ancient world, which was well attended by PhD and early career researchers, as well as established academics in the field. I was very proud to have been part of it, and hope to do more in the future to keep conversations about disability in Classics going.

‘In addition to my research, I have coached students through the University’s Summer Teams Enterprise Project (STEP), guiding students through an EDI (Equality, Diversity, and Inclusion) initiative for the School of Classics. I’ll be returning to STEP again this summer, this time to lead a group of students through a campaign to encourage more women to become involved in student leadership in Classics.

‘I’ve been developing my skills in roller derby (a contact sport on roller skates), and have a few games lined up with the Bonnie Colliders. I also attend an embroidery club in Glenrothes, which gives me an opportunity to unwind after a long day working on my thesis.

‘I am extremely grateful for my studentship, which has allowed me to undertake this PhD. Without this funding, I would never have been able to pursue academic research, meet people who are so significant in my life, and pursue these hobbies which have become passions.’

Will you leave a legacy as part of your St Andrews story?

Join the Chancellor's Circle and help create someone else's St Andrews story

Legacies are supporting some of the key projects of our new Making Waves Campaign: the first 'New College' at the University for three centuries, a Digital Nexus building at the heart of the Science and Medicine Campus, and Chairs and academic appointments.

Legacies are also helping to provide scholarships for future generations of world changers. Catherine (Kay) Elder (BSc 1970), who joined the pioneering team responsible for the birth of the first 'test tube baby' at Bourn Hall Clinic, has chosen to support scholarships through a legacy and is a member of the Chancellor's Circle. She shares her story in this year's Chronicle.

What's your St Andrews story?

We'll be sharing and celebrating the stories of other alumni and friends in our upcoming legacy communications.

Our Legacies Manager Katrina Bell would be delighted to hear your story, and to tell you more about legacy giving and joining the Chancellor's Circle.
