This online interactive edition of the Chaplaincy booklet was compiled while remote working and social distancing were in place. As it is anticipated that these measures will only gradually be lifted, this booklet does not fully include detailed information relating to access to and delivery of our services. Each section provides signposted links to our webpages and other University webpages and resources where the most up to date information can be found.
Welcome…

to St Andrews, a beautiful town, a historic University, and an exciting place to live, study and work. Even if you can’t be here right now, we’re here for you online.

My name is Donald and I am the University Chaplain. I work with the Chaplaincy team to enhance the lives of many in the University, people of any faith, culture, tradition or philosophy of life. This online booklet explores what that means in practice. I hope you enjoy it.

Who am I? 50 years old, from Glasgow, a husband and cat-lover, Chaplain for nine years. I love travelling with my wife – we have travelled in recent years in Cuba, Ethiopia and Turkmenistan. I play golf on St Andrews’ many golf courses, often hunting for wayward shots. And I have been known to throw a few shapes in the Union on very rare occasions.

But I do also work, seeing students and staff in person and online, leading worship in the chapels and online, and supporting interfaith engagement. Feel free to get in touch with me – by email or phone, or via the Chaplaincy secretaries. Or just say hi if you see me – a six foot six redhead guy probably wearing a clerical collar.

Have a great time in St Andrews!

Donald MacEwan

Hello

My name is Samantha Ferguson and I am your Assistant University Chaplain. I work with Donald and the Chaplaincy Team in supporting all staff and students. Whether we can care for you during difficult times or celebrate with you during joyous moments, we are here for you.

My role is a part-time position and I assist Donald in providing pastoral support and leading worship. We are here for all faiths and for those who have no faith or choose a different philosophy of life. This is very important to us as your Chaplains.

As far as my background goes, I am a graduate of St Mary’s College of Divinity and an ordained Priest in the Scottish Episcopal Church. I am also a wife and a mum. When time permits, in between walking our two dogs, I love to swim, sing and listen to true crime podcasts. Sometimes I even do all three together…! Please don’t be shy, come and say hello. I am the short round one in a collar that you will probably see standing in line at Tesco’s trying not to buy doughnuts.

Enjoy your time at St Andrews and remember, we are here for you because we care.

Blessings

Samantha Ferguson

E: mjg23@st-andrews.ac.uk

Father Michael John is the Parish Priest of St James in St Andrews on the Scores opposite Canmore, the Catholic Chaplaincy.
Aharon and Hodaya Lemberger
Honorary Jewish Chaplains

Hodaya and Aharon were born in Jerusalem and are now living in Glasgow. Aharon got his L.L.B at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, and worked as a prosecutor at Jerusalem’s DA’s office and as a lawyer at Israel’s Ministry of Justice, overseeing criminal legislation. In the past few years Hodaya worked as a Remedial Teacher in Efrat, Israel helping special education students improve their reading and writing skills. Hodaya and Aharon graduated Ohr Torah Stone’s Machon Amiel program that trains Educators and Rabbis towards Different Shlichut positions in the Diaspora, and Aharon also took part at Machon Amiel’s Torat Yosef kollel, where he studied towards Rabbinic Ordination.

Kitty Macintyre
Honorary Pagan Chaplain
E: klkm@st-andrews.ac.uk

Kitty has worked in the University administration for 30 years, having been a student here before that. She enjoys her regular contact with Pagan students and any other students who cross her path.

Revd Alan McGougan
Honorary United Reformed Church Chaplain
E: adm28@st-andrews.ac.uk

Alan is a minister in the United Reformed Church and moved to live in Dunfermline in 2016 and is minister to five congregations in the Fife and Tayside area. In 2016 the United Reformed Church became the first mainstream Christian denomination to vote in favour of allowing ministers to conduct same-sex marriages.

Dr Emily Michelson and Bill Shackman
Honorary Lay Jewish Chaplains
E: edm21@st-andrews.ac.uk and bill.shackman@gmail.com

Emily and Bill (a married couple) offer support to Jewish students in teaching, encouragement and hospitality, and in taking part in Jewish Society events.

Revd Dr Jared Michelson
Honorary Cornerstone Chaplain
E: jm282@st-andrews.ac.uk

Jared grew up in the United States, but has lived and worked in St Andrews with his wife Becky since 2013 while pursuing post-graduate education. In 2018 Jared became the lead Pastor at Cornerstone Church in St Andrews.
The Very Revd. Archimandrite Avraamy Neyman
Honorary Orthodox Chaplain
E: xaneyman@yahoo.co.uk

Fr Avraamy is a priest and monk from the Russian Orthodox Church who moved to Scotland in 2007 and is based in Dundee.

Dr Sam Pehrson
Honorary Buddhist Chaplain
E: sdp21@st-andrews.ac.uk

Sam is a lecturer in the School of Psychology and Neuroscience. He works with the student-led Buddhist Meditation Society to run the weekly meditation and reading/discussion group. He is happy to meet anybody in the university interested in any aspect of Buddhist practice.

Imam Abdul Raof

What is the Chaplaincy?

The Chaplaincy is a university department which enhances the life and experience of students and staff in all sorts of ways. We offer worship in the beautiful medieval chapels on Sundays, weekdays, Christmas, graduation, and other times of the year. The Chaplaincy team offer pastoral care for any student or member of staff, regardless of faith or philosophy of life. This could be a sympathetic, confidential listening ear, support in emotional issues, a safe place to explore questions of faith or sexuality, someone to talk to in a crisis, or support when all else fails. To arrange to meet Donald, the Chaplain, email him on dgm21@st-andrews.ac.uk, to meet with Samantha, the Assistant Chaplain, contact her on sjf6@st-andrews.ac.uk, or email the secretaries on chaplaincy@st-andrews.ac.uk or call 01334 462866 or drop by the Chaplaincy.

We support people of different faiths, providing honorary chaplains, space in the Chaplaincy building (called Mansefield, across from the Union), and we sponsor the Interfaith Steering Group, which runs wonderfully stimulating events. We have a range of facilities available for both student groups and individuals, including small and large meeting rooms, kitchen, garden and quiet meditation/prayer spaces. Should you or your group wish to book any of our facilities please contact the Chaplaincy secretaries who will be happy to assist you.

Full details of the facilities and how to book can be found on our webpage www/st-andrews.ac.uk/chaplaincy/mansefieldbuilding

We offer support

Chaplaincy Team

The Chaplain and his team offer pastoral support, regardless of faith or philosophy of life, to help you find a way through whatever problems you face.

In hospital or know someone who is?

Please let us know... The Chaplains are glad to visit. Being in hospital can be a vulnerable time and we are glad to offer support. This is especially important if an individual is far from home. The role of the Chaplains is to offer care to any member of the University community: staff or student. We rely on you to help us care. As with any support, appropriate confidentiality will be maintained.

To make an appointment

or you can contact the Chaplain, Revd Dr Donald MacEwan or Assistant Chaplain, Revd Samantha Ferguson direct.

Contact details can be found at the front of this booklet.
Other sources of support

University life can be stressful, even when you are enjoying it. The University of St Andrews takes the mental and emotional health of its students and staff seriously along with your academic life.

As such we offer a wealth of services to support and help you in time of need. Whether that be from the Chaplains, Student Services, Nightline or the Students’ Association, there is someone here to help.

Student Services provides a range of professional services committed to guiding and advising students, while offering strategies, skills and techniques to empower you to cope with difficulties and challenges.

Specialist, wellbeing, counselling and mental health services are based in Eden Court and in locations across the University. Student Services also provides specialist advice on a range of matters, including:

- Disability Support: if you have specific learning disabilities or a long-term medical condition
- Money Advice: if you are experiencing financial hardship or have concerns about money issues
- Wellbeing: if you are looking for someone to listen and give you advice on a broad range of issues
- Academic Advice: if you need advice regarding changing modules, performance, absence, taking time out, appeals etc.
- Coaching: if you are feeling stuck and you have a goal but no plan.

The Peer Support Network is a confidential one-to-one meet-up service which is open to any student looking for a little extra help during their time at St Andrews. It is made up of student volunteers with training in listening skills who are available for a coffee and a chat. They are happy to provide support and a confidential listening ear for any issue, big or small, as well as company for trying out new things (like society activities). If you’re interested in being matched with a peer or would like to learn more about the programme, feel free to send an email to peersupport@st-andrews.ac.uk

To book an appointment with Student Services:

The ASC (the Advice and Support Centre) is the front door to the University for all students.

Staff at the ASC are there for any query, for paying bills to obtaining an academic transcript, seeking advice on visas, making a complaint, personal issues or any other student matters.

Staff can also assist you in making appointments with Student Services staff, Registry Support Officers and Pro Deans. With links to all major University officers, the ASC is the quickest way to get things done!

Chaplaincy Prize

This new prize has been established through the generous donation of monies received through the University of St Andrews American Foundation. This prize, awarded each year, will be open to all current students and based around a particular theme for an original piece of creative work or essay. The theme for the 2020/21 award will be ‘The Environment’.

What we are looking for is one of the following:

- An essay (750 words maximum).
- A piece of poetry, hymn or a short story.
- A focused/practical project, which is documented and reported (750 words maximum).

It must contain:

1. an environmental theme which shows a passion for, or connection to, the environment.
2. a faith/spiritual element or show spiritual growth/change.

Other optional elements:

Your entry can include mixed media, such as photos/images or video content (5 minutes maximum).

It can be a short report or piece of written work on something you have already been working on during your studies or over the summer break.

Prize award: £250.

The winner will be decided by a committee formed from our team of Honorary Chaplains, convened by the Chaplain, who will assess applications and choose a prize-winner.

To enter, submit your entry directly by email to chaplaincy@st-andrews.ac.uk, or in person to the Chaplaincy, Mansefield, 3a St Mary’s Place, St Andrews.

Closing date: Entries must be received by 5pm on Friday 29 January 2021.
University Chapel Preachers

We are pleased to welcome guest preachers from various denominations and backgrounds to our Sunday services (11 am) in St Salvator’s Chapel/online. The service is usually followed by Holy Communion for those who wish to stay, the long-standing tradition of the Pier Walk – gowned students walking out along the pier – and refreshments. Services will also be available via Live Stream, details will be published on our Worship webpage, Facebook and Chaplaincy Newsletter. This year’s preachers are as follows:

St Salvator’s Chapel

St Salvator’s Chapel is at the heart of the University. It is open to all to go in, to sit, think or pray, to be quiet and draw strength, to listen to an organist rehearsing, to show round visitors, or even to revise for an exam. An ecumenical chapel belonging to the University, it plays host to many services, including weddings, memorial services and graduation day services. Its steeple, visible from all directions as you approach St Andrews, welcomes all to the University and the Chapel.

St Salvator’s Chapel was consecrated in 1460 as part of St Salvator’s College, founded ten years earlier by Bishop James Kennedy as part of the young University of St Andrews. There are a number of features from those early years, especially Bishop Kennedy’s own tomb. The pulpit is probably 17th Century, but most of the Chapel’s furniture and decorations are much more recent, with beautiful carved pews, stone altar with mosaics, First and Second World War Memorials, and colourful stained glass windows which tell Bible stories, and portray virtues and heraldic symbols.

The main entrance to the chapel faces out onto the Street and not into the college courtyard, known as St Salvator’s Quad. The cobbles beneath the bell tower bear witness to the turbulent events of the 16th century. The initials PH set in to the cobbles marks the site where 24 year old Patrick Hamilton (died 1528) was burnt at the stake for his Protestant beliefs.

There is a fine organ in the Chapel, and most services are enhanced by choirs including St Salvator’s Chapel Choir singing music from across the centuries. There are six bells in the tower which ring out for Sunday services, graduations and weddings on request. Details on getting involved as a choir member, bellringer, Chapel usher or reader are found elsewhere in this booklet.

Whether you share the faith of the Chapel or do not, you are welcome at a service or simply to come into the building, at the heart of the University, perhaps write a prayer in the book on the table, and find strength from its beauty and peace.
Weddings in the University Chapels

Weddings in the chapels during the COVID-19 pandemic will be held in accordance with the Scottish Government and University guidelines. There will likely be limitations on the number of guests, and this may differ from the capacity information detailed below. For the most up-to-date information on these restrictions please contact the Chaplaincy – see back cover for contact details.

Many weddings take place every year in the University Chapels. Current students and staff, graduates and their children and grandchildren, are among those who may be married in St Salvator’s or St Leonard’s Chapel. Weddings of any Christian church can be held in the chapels, including same-sex marriage ceremonies. The Chaplaincy can provide a chaplain to conduct your wedding if you wish.

St Salvator’s Chapel is the larger of the two chapels, situated on North Street, seating approximately 180 guests in the nave with an additional 100 in the ante-chapel – note that these numbers are reduced in accordance with social distancing measures. The pews face each other across the Chapel in collegiate style in the nave. The chapel is equipped with wheelchair access and induction loop microphone system.

St Leonard’s Chapel is the smaller of the two chapels offering a more intimate setting for smaller weddings, situated in the grounds of St Leonard’s School. Seating approximately 50 in the nave (much reduced in accordance with social distancing measures) pews again face across the Chapel in collegiate style. The Chapel is equipped for wheelchair access.

Further information on weddings at the University can be found on our web pages at www.st-andrews.ac.uk/community/weddings. The Chaplaincy secretaries welcome wedding enquiries on chaplaincy@st-andrews.ac.uk or 01334 (46)2866.

The University also boasts a number of historic venues to host your reception. For more details visit www.ace.st-andrews.ac.uk/weddings-special-events/weddings/
Chaplain’s Conversations

Discover more about the people of the University of St Andrews. In conversation with the Chaplain, Donald MacEwan, these key figures will explore their path to the university, what inspires them in their research and their thoughts about the future of education. This is a FREE ticketed event, which will take place in the Byre Theatre Main Auditorium. Tickets available via the Byre Box Office 01334 475000
