Call for Papers

2ème CSEAR France
(Congress on Social and Environmental Accounting Research)

2 et 3 mai 2013
Université Montpellier 1, ISEM, France

The Institut des Sciences de l’Entreprise et du Management (ISEM, Université Montpellier 1) is pleased to announce that the second French CSEAR conference will take place on May 2 and 3, 2013.

CSEAR
The Centre for Social and Environmental Accounting Research (CSEAR) has held an annual conference in the UK (often referred to as the Summer School) for almost two decades, and other parts of the world in Europe, Australia, New Zealand, and in both North and South Americas.

Objective
The main objective of the conference is to provide a deliberately informal discussion forum to further enhance research in new instruments, policies and strategies related to social and environmental accounting.

The spirit of the conference is interdisciplinary. As such, research papers from perspectives beyond accounting and management control such as organizational theory, human resources, marketing, finance, strategy, etc...are welcome.

The conference will provide participants an opportunity to present their research projects, ranging from discussing preliminary findings to full papers in a friendly and enthusiastic atmosphere. Submissions are welcome in either French or English.
For this second CSEAR in France, the plenary speaker will be Professor Den Patten, Professor of Accounting at Illinois State University

Under the aegis of the AFC (French Accounting Association) and in partnership with the RIODD (International Research Network on Organizations and Sustainable Development), the conference will be organized by MRM (Montpellier Recherche en Management), the research centre for management studies of the universities in Montpellier and the ISEM (Institut des Sciences de l'Entreprise et du Management, Université Montpellier 1).
