14th International Congress on Social and Environmental Accounting
September 2003, Dundee

Papers and presentations

Pamela Anderson, Huddersfield University, UK: Accountability in the Food Sector

Ataur Belal, Aston University, UK: Stakeholders' Perceptions of CSR in Bangladesh

Martin Bennett, Gloucestershire University, UK: 'The Environmental Accounting System': England and Wales Environment Agency

Frank Birkin and Bill Lee, Sheffield University, UK: Accounting Aspects of Local Economic Trading Schemes

David Campbell, Northumbria University, UK: Sin Funds: Analysis of Historical Portfolio Performance Using Both Permissive and Restrictive Ethical Filtration

Adrian Cashman, Frank Birkin and Linda Lewis, Sheffield University, UK: An Accounting Model for Sustainable Water Use

Colin Dey, University of Dundee, UK: Attempts to Improve Accountability in Primary Health Care

Paul Eagle, CORE Project Manager for Amnesty, UK: The Corporate Responsibility Coalition and Its Campaign

Fiona Gooch, Traidcraft/Just Pensions Group, UK: The Just Pensions Project

Rasha Hanafi, Glasgow University, UK: A Quest for Understanding Social and Environmental Reporting from a Non-Western Context

Kathryn Haynes, York University, UK and Alan Murray, Sheffield University, UK: An Ecological Crisis Has Not Taken Place

Wan Ying Hill, Glasgow Caledonian University, UK: Problems with Envisioning of the 'Poetic Accounts' Project

Thomas Riise Johansen, Copenhagen Business School, Denmark: Employee Voices in a Small Danish Savings Bank

Rania Kamla, Heriot-Watt University, UK: Corporate Social Reporting in an Islamic Arab Middle Eastern Context

Niklas Kreander, Glasgow University, UK: An Immanent Critique of UK Church Investments

Bill Lee, Sheffield University, UK: Theorising the Abandonment of the Initial ILA Experiment

Maria J. Masanet Llodra, University Jaume 1 of Castellon, Spain: An Exploratory Study of Environmental Accounting in Management Systems

Lance Moir, Cranfield University, UK: Communicating Philanthropy - Multiple Representations to Multiple Stakeholders

Mahmoud Momin, Glasgow University, UK: A Quest for Understanding - Corporate Social Reponsibility and Reporting Practices of Multinationals
Brendan O'Dwyer, University College Dublin, Ireland, Jeffrey Unerman, King's College, University of London, UK and John Bradley: Stakeholder Perceptions of CSD in Ireland

Bandara Rajapakse, University of Colombo, Sri Lanka: Environmental Reporting

David Russell, Universities Superannuation Scheme Ltd, UK: The Experience of Adopting an SRI Strategy at USS

Mark Shenkin, Strathclyde University, UK: Corporate Accountability

Crawford Spence, Glasgow University, UK: What is Social and Environmental Reporting?

Ian Thompson, Strathclyde University, UK: Accounting for Sustainability: The Scottish Executive's Experience

Carol Tilt, Flinders University, Australia: Influence on Corporate Social Reporting: A Look at Lobby Groups Ten Years On

Jeffrey Unerman, King's College, University of London, UK: Accountability and Diversity Champions

Norhayah Zulkifli, Glamorgan University, UK: Social and Environmental Accounting Education in Malaysia