Returners Career Development Workshop aimed at qualified women wanting to return to work in SET

Date: Wednesday 29th August 2012
Time: 9:30am – 4:00pm
Location: The Melting Pot, 5 Rose Street, Edinburgh
Refreshments and buffet lunch provided

Introduction

Returning to work following a career break can be daunting but with the right tools and information, you can get back the confidence in your own abilities to find the position you’re looking for.

This workshop will help you to:

This workshop aims to enable you to problem-solve issues which are holding you back from all that you can be. It will further develop a positive personal perception of your own abilities and personal strengths and help you feel more comfortable communicating these strengths.

Please note it is not aimed at providing you with personal advice on your CV, interviews or applying for specific positions.

Who is the workshop for?

Women qualified in Science, Engineering and Technology subjects and looking to return to work following a career break.

To register click on the icon:

Linkedin
To subscribe to the SRC mailing list, please click here
If you have any questions please contact us at src@napier.ac.uk or call 0131 455 5108

About us:
The Scottish Resource Centre for Women in Science, Engineering and Technology works to create sustainable change for the participation of women in science, engineering, technology and built environment (SET) sectors in Scotland. We do this by changing employment practices and workplace cultures to support gender equality, and supporting the recruitment, retention, and success of women where they are significantly under-represented.