A new employee's guide

All members join the USS Retirement Income Builder. The USS Retirement Income Builder provides benefits based on a formula using your salary (up to a threshold) for each year that you are a member. At the end of each scheme year (31 March), benefits are calculated as follows:

These benefits are then reviewed annually and increases applied using the standard USS pension increases.

* salary up to and including the threshold.

USS Investment Builder

This section operates on a basis known as defined contribution. This means that your contributions, and any paid by your employer, are invested to provide benefits for your retirement, in addition to your USS Retirement Income Builder benefits. All members can choose to pay into the USS Investment Builder. For members earning more than the salary threshold, you and your employer automatically pay into the USS Investment Builder.

Salary threshold

The salary threshold is initially £55,000 per annum. This will be automatically revalued each April (from 2017 onwards) in line with increases in official pensions (currently linked to CPI), subject to certain caps. The salary threshold is to be reviewed in March 2020.

If you do earn more than the salary threshold your benefits will be calculated under the USS Retirement Income Builder section for salary up to the salary threshold. Contributions on salary in excess of the salary threshold paid by you and your employer are paid automatically in to the USS Investment Builder.

Additionally, any member can choose to pay into the USS Investment Builder, whatever their salary. If you choose to pay at least 1% of your salary into the USS Investment Builder your employer will automatically match the first 1% of your salary as a contribution. You could choose to pay in more, but your employer will automatically match the first 1% of salary only.

How it works

Here is an example to illustrate how this works based on a member with pensionable salary of £60,000 for the year.

Benefits in the USS Retirement Income Builder

Pension =  $1/75^{\text{th}} \times £55,000 = \mathbf{£733.33}$  (salary restricted by salary threshold)

Cash sum =  $£3 \times £733.33 = \mathbf{£2,200.00}$

Contributions to the USS Investment Builder

Your contribution =  $8\% \times £5,000 = \mathbf{£400.00}$  (based on salary above the threshold)

Your employer's contribution =  $12\% \times £5,000 = \mathbf{£600.00}$  (based on salary above the threshold)

If you also elected to pay 2% more into the scheme, the following amounts would be paid in to the USS Investment Builder:

The Match

Your additional 2% =  $2\% \times £60,000 = \mathbf{£1,200.00}$  (based on full pensionable salary)

Matching contribution from your employer =  $£1\% \times £60,000 = \mathbf{£600.00}$  (based on full pensionable salary)

So, with these additional contributions, and the match from your employer, the total paid in to the USS Investment Builder would be £2,800.
