This module will critically and historically survey the most common interpretations of the Hebrew Bible/Old Testament, the Septuagint and the New Testament following a historical line from the pre-rabbinic Jewish interpretations over the Patristic interpretations to the later Rabbinic interpretations. Special attention will also be devoted to the reinterpretation of Scripture in New Testament.

Programme module type:
DI5201 or DI5203 is Compulsory for Scripture and Theology Postgraduate Programmes.
Optional for other Divinity Postgraduate Programmes.

Pre-requisite(s):
Analytic knowledge of basic Greek (classical or biblical) and/or basic Hebrew

Learning and teaching methods and delivery:
Weekly contact: 4hours (weeks 7-11, final essay submitted in Week 12)

Assessment pattern:
Coursework = 100%

Module Co-ordinator:
Dr M Elliott

Lecturer(s)/Tutor(s):

This module will explore the development of one or more themes (e.g. temple or covenant) through the biblical texts. Proper attention will be paid to the historical-critical dimensions of these themes, including textual/philological detail and background, but the module will be particularly concerned with the ways in which they develop across the Testaments and are taken up into Christian theology, providing frameworks and concepts for different elements of this. Post-biblical Jewish interpretations may also be examined as part of the study, but the module will be specifically oriented towards the significance of themes in the Bible for Christian theology.

The specific theme(s) to be covered in a particular year will be publicised in the module handbook for that year.

Programme module type: Compulsory for Scripture and Theology Postgraduate Programme.
Optional for Biblical Languages and Literature

Learning and teaching methods and delivery: Weekly contact: 4 hours.

Assessment pattern: 3-hour Written Examination = 40%, Coursework = 60%

Module Co-ordinator: TBC
