Film Studies (FM) Modules

FM3101 War and Cinema

Credits: 30.0  Semester: 2

Description: From Norman McLaren’s classical animated treatise on conflict Neighbours (1952) to films on present-day terrorism (for example, India’s The Terrorist, 1999), this module will focus on the changing representations of war and international conflict in cinema. We will look at classical Western and non-Western films about World War I and World War II (typically including films like, Sahara, Paisa, Bridge on the River Kwai, Come and See, Stalingrad) and discuss the cinematic treatment of war-time mismanagement (for example A Bridge Too Far, Charge of the Light Brigade) as well as explore films looking into various national liberation struggles, at the evolving representations of the Vietnam war in American cinema, and at the depictions of more recent conflicts such as the wars in Bosnia, Rwanda and Iraq. Other issues that we will discuss in the context of cinematic representation include media and war, justice and reconciliation in a war’s aftermath, satirical interpretations of war, and various explanatory frameworks on conflict (cold war, political economy, clash of civilisations).

Class Hour: To be arranged

Teaching: Two hour seminar plus screening.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 50%, 2 Hour Examination = 50%

FM3102 Cinema and Nation

Credits: 30.0  Semester: 1

Description: We will begin with the proposition that a national cinema can be more fruitfully understood in terms of the conflicts and discrepancies within a given culture to which its constituent films give a voice. These conflicts point to the fact that film does not simply represent the homogeneous characteristics of a national culture: national cinemas can be seen as sites of contestation where the meanings and interpretations of national culture hand history can be debated, dismissed or fortified. As a site, the cinema can be conceptualised as a public arena where the meanings of a culture are negotiated, not simply disseminated. In terms of national cinemas, these kinds of contestations are often concerned with the definition of a given culture: what are its principles, its goals, its heritage, or its history? What has been forgotten, what has been elided, and what should be remembered? What is the relationship between these cultural histories and the individual? Filmmakers discussed could include Capra, Vinterberg, Griffith, Eisenstein, Fassbinder, Douglas, Rouch and others.

Class Hour: To be arranged

Teaching: Two hour seminar plus screening.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 50%, 2 Hour Examination = 50%

FM3201 Scotland and Cinema

Credits: 30.0  Semester: 1

Description: Since the 1990s there has been a resurgence in the number of films either produced or set in Scotland. These vary in style from, for example, Braveheart (1995) to Trainspotting (1995), Orphans (1997), Loch Ness (1994) and Dog Soldiers (2001). This module examines the American, British and European cinematic traditions that influenced these and other such representations. Consequently it analyses both popular and art films previously set in Scotland, typically examining the works of directors like John Grierson, Alexander Mackendrick, Bill Forsyth and Bill Douglas, to cult classics like The Wicker Man (1972), Highlander (1986) and the musical Brigadoon (1954). The module also focuses on how political events (for example, the recent devolution of lottery money distribution) have influenced the cinematic representation of Scotland.

FM3202 The Cinema in Eastern Europe

Credits: 30.0  Semester: Either  Availability: Not available 2005-06

Description: This module explores the cinema of what, after the rapid disintegration of the cultural entity of the so-called East bloc, came to be known as East Central Europe. We explore the cinematic traditions of Poland, Hungary, and Czechoslovakia during the period of state socialism (1945 – 1989) and the post-1989 changes, when the idea of Central Europe as unique cultural space was revived and re-constituted. By mapping out the key concerns, thematic spheres and stylistic particularities that make the cinema of East Central Europe part of the European tradition, we will encourage an inclusive and comprehensive understanding of European cinema, much needed for the new ‘enlarged’ Europe. The work of a versatile range of directors will be covered (typically including films by Szabó, Jancsó, Mészárosm Nemec, Jakubisko, Zanussi, Kieslowski, Wajda, Munk, Fábri, Sverák, etc.), as well as debates regarding the representation of history and memory, the reassessment of political content, the rehabilitation of popular cinema, and the rethinking of national and regional cinemas in the context of globalization.

Teaching: Two hour seminar plus screening.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 50%, 2 Hour Examination = 50%

FM3203 American Independent Cinema

Credits: 30.0  Semester: Either  Availability: Not available 2005-06

Description: In recent years the American Independent film has become very popular, with films like Memento (2000), Donnie Darko (2001) and Secretary (2003) all very commercially successful. Yet what makes these films independent? Is it s subversive “spirit”, a minimal budget, or a combination of the two? This module explores the ramifications of this question, by examining the long tradition of American independent cinema. Directors discussed could include Maya Deren, Russ Meyer, John Cassavetes, Haile Gerima, John Waters, Martin Scorsese, and Harmony Korine and others. The module examines how independent films create various different aesthetic templates with which to examine issues like gender, race and sexuality, whilst simultaneously experimenting with the medium of film itself. It also examines the American film industry’s long and complex relationship with the independent film.

Class Hour: To be arranged
Teaching: Two hour seminar plus screening.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 50%, 2 Hour Examination = 50%

FM3204 Asian Cinemas

Credits: 30.0  Semester: Either  Availability: Not available 2005-06

Description: This module introduces a range of Asian cinemas. Countries covered typically include Hong Kong, South Korea, China, India and Iran. It examines the way in which different Asian film industries have emerged, and historically contextualizes the industrial strategies for production and distribution they have adopted. In this way, both their national and their global market positions are analysed without recourse to negative comparisons with Hollywood. The different types of film studied typically range from Hong Kong action and kung fu films, to South Korean wrestling comedies, Bollywood films, and Iranian and Chinese art films. Occasionally Taiwanese melodramas or works of new Thai cinema will also be incorporated. By discussing how the different aesthetics created by these cinemas are specific to their contexts, this module questions the universal applicability of concepts previously developed in film studies.

Class Hour: To be arranged
Teaching: Two hour seminar plus screening.

FM3301 Feminist Film Theory and Women’s Cinema

Credits: 30.0 Semester: 2

Description: This module is designed to provide an introduction to the theory and practice of feminism and cinema since the 1970s, covering key developments in feminist film theory and criticism, as well as women’s filmmaking. The first part of the module centres on gender representation, through critical readings of images of women in the classical Hollywood film, and their relevance for the analysis of mainstream and popular cinemas. In the second part, we will look at a range of independent filmmaking to examine the ways in which women’s interventions mobilise a range of discursive strategies, from experimental counter-cinema to post-feminist narratives. In each seminar, a specific film will be studied in the light of a theoretical or critical essay covering a range of approaches such as authorship, semiotics, psychoanalysis, reception studies and consumer cultures. We will examine how the analysis of gender intersects with representations of class, sexuality and nation in diverse modes of film production, from Hollywood to the avant-garde.

FM4099 Film Studies Dissertation (Module in preparation)

FM4101 Time, National Identity and Cinema

Credits: 30.0 Semester: Either
Availability: Not available 2005-06

Description: This module examines films that use multiple, reversed or otherwise disrupted narratives to construct images of national identity. Films studied typically include, Hitchcock’s Vertigo (1958), Fellini’s 8½(1963), Sliding Doors (1997), Run Lola Run (1998), Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind (2003), Terminator 3 (2003), The Butterfly Effect (2004), and Hideo Nakata’s Chaos (1999), but the selection of texts may vary. Using a methodology derived from Gilles Deleuze’s philosophy, the module analyses the formal construction of narrative time in each film, and the use of character memory to represent the national past. It also interrogates the different ways in which each film addresses historical transformations that affect national identity, such as the cold war, globalization, the first Gulf War, 9/11 and the collapse of the Asian tiger economies in the 1990s.

FM4102 Politics and Cinéphilia in 1960s and 1970s Film Culture

Credits: 30.0 Semester: Either
Availability: Not available 2005-06

Description: The academic study of film came into its own in the 1960s. This development was concurrent with the rise of revolutionary film practices, both in terms of style and politics. This module will examine the relationship between the development of film as a discipline and the conviction of the times that film was the revolutionary artistic medium. We will examine the impact of May 68 on film culture, the rise of the American Left, and the belief that getting media into the hands of the people was a key way by which to radically change Western and non-Western cultures alike. Underlying this analysis will be an examination of the ways in which the concept of cinéphilia drove a range of political and cultural interventions.

Class Hour: To be arranged

Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 50%, 2 Hour Examination = 50%
FM4103 Film and Media
Credits: 30.0 Semester: Either
Availability: Not available 2005-06
Description: This module looks at the workings of media and a range of related theories (newsworthiness, agenda setting, gatekeeping) as they have been represented through the medium of cinema. The consideration is mostly of American films, typically those dealing with corporate media (Network, Broadcast News), investigative journalism (The Killing Fields), media and politics (Manufacturing Consent, War Room), media and war (Wag the Dog, Outfoxed, Control Room), ethics and journalism (Shattered Glass), and reality TV (The Truman Show, EdTV). It also explores the treatment of media-related issues in the traditions of Britain (The Day Today, a satire on broadcasting conventions) and Germany (Mother Küsters Goes to Heaven, The Lost Honour of Katharina Blum, both raising issues of intrusion of privacy).
Class Hour: To be arranged
Teaching: Two hour seminar plus screening.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 50%, 2 Hour Examination = 50%

FM4104 Film and History
Credits: 30.0 Semester: Either
Availability: Not available 2005-06
Description: This module will bring together the study of historiography with an investigation of feature and documentary filmmaking and will explore themes at the core of intense public and academic debates. Topics typically include the ideological functions of historical super productions, Hollywood and history, controversial novel adaptations, biography and heroic protagonist, the ordinary individual in the context of history, propaganda, trauma and remembrance, sites of memory, film as a first draft of history, as well as issues of speculation on ‘history that has not yet happened’, the conjectures on ‘denial history’ and the ‘clash of civilisations’. The attention will be on theories looking into the way historical narratives are constructed, as well as on the practice of teaching history via the medium of film.
Class Hour: To be arranged
Teaching: Two hour seminar plus screening.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 50%, 2 Hour Examination = 50%

FM4101 Japanese Cinema after WWII
Credits: 30.0 Semester: 2
Description: Already the most widely discussed of all Asian cinemas, the 1990s saw a resurgence of worldwide popularity for Japanese cinema. This module will examine the national cinema that produced Ring (1996), Audition (1999) and Battle Royale (2000), focusing on the formal and thematic development of post-war Japanese cinema. A range of art films and popular genres will be examined, including works by auteurs like Ozu, Kurazawa, Kitano and Ichikawa, but also, typically, Godzilla films, Manga animation, yakuza gangster films, pink films, and the samurai tradition. Each film will be analysed in relation to the socio-political context in which it emerged, from the American dominated 1940s through the years of the bubble economy to the present day.

FM4301 The International Film Industry: Cultural Production and Distribution
Credits: 30.0 Semester: 1
Description: In response to political transitions, mass migrations, and technological innovations that transform cultural industries across the world, recent years also brought far-reaching changes in the global marketing of the moving image. Even though Hollywood appears to be a dominant force, its supremacy is contested as smaller but numerous film cultures come to act as its counter-flows on the international arena (for example, Bollywood, Hong Kong cinema, European art film). This module will explore the key debates and decisive issues concerning the international dynamics in the production and dissemination of films, as well as the leading critical approaches to film as a major form of transnational cultural product (political economy; globalisation).
Class Hour: To be arranged
Teaching: Two hour seminar plus screening.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 50%, 2 Hour Examination = 50%
FM4302 Contemporary Period Drama

Credits: 30.0  Semester: 1

Description: The high-profile success of international films such as Cyrano de Bergerac (1990), Howards End (1992), Orlando (1992), The Piano (1993), or Shakespeare in Love (1998) has pushed contemporary period drama to the centre stage of the debates about cultural identity and the representation of the national past. These so-called 'heritage films' have often been questioned as nostalgic visions of the past promoted by a convergence of institutional and economic interests. However, the enduring popularity and sophistication of many of these films has also been the motor of provocative explorations from the angle of intertextuality and the reinscription of gender, class and post-colonial identities. Through discussion of films by authors like Martin Scorsese, Jane Campion or Ang Lee, this module examines contemporary period drama as a versatile film object and a topical source of debate in an increasingly globalised film culture.

FM4303 Documentary Cinema

Credits: 30.0  Semester: 2

Description: This module will consider the many forms of cinema that fall under the rubric of the documentary. Beginning with the early cinema of the Lumiere brothers, we will consider the tension that lies between realism and fantasy in documentary filmmaking. The relationship between documentary films and propaganda will be considered in depth focusing on the works of Grierson and Riefenstahl. The second part of the module will consider the theoretical and technical developments in documentary film from the 1950s to the present. Cinema direct and vérité will be examined, as will the current popularity of self-reflexive documentaries by the likes of Michael Moore, Nick Broomfield, Errol Morris and Morgan Spurlock.

FR4151 The Dialects of French
Credits: 15.0  Semester: 2
Availability: 2006-07
Prerequisite: One of FR3053, FR3054
Description: The module aims to provide insights into the way a language varies from one region to another, introducing students to the principles of dialectology and linguistic geography. It begins with an exploration of the notion of ‘language obsolescence’ (the way old regional varieties die out under pressure from a powerful standard language). It moves on to examine recordings of French regional accents (particularly l’accent du Midi), and specimens of dialectal speech from Normandy and Picardy, tracing the distribution of particular linguistic features on to a map of the country. The final part of the module consists of a basic introduction to the Occitan language still spoken in parts of the South.
Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: One-and-a-half hours
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

FR4152 Colloquial French and its History
Credits: 15.0  Semester: 2
Availability: 2005-06
Prerequisite: One of FR3053, FR3054
Description: The distance between the standard French language and the colloquial variety (the ‘vernacular’) is exceptionally wide. Most descriptions of French focus on the former, but much of the speaking which ‘happens’ in France uses the latter (referred to in France disparagingly as ‘français populaire’). This module sets out to describe the main phonetic, grammatical and lexical features of contemporary vernacular French, using sound recordings and the video of a 1980s’ film. It will then move back in time, looking at representations of the Parisian vernacular in the 17th and 18th centuries and in a film made in the 1930s. The purpose of the historical section will be to investigate how innovatory is today’s colloquial French.
Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: One-and-a-half hours
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 80%, Oral Examination = 20%

FR5810 French (Science) Work Placement Dissertation
Credits: 30.0 Semester: Two years
Prerequisites: Admission to stage 4 of MChem with French (WIYA) Programme
Anti-requisites: FR3101, FR3103, FR3810
Co-requisites: CH4441
Description: This module offers students the opportunity of personal study arising from a work placement in connection with their science course. It will be assessed by a dissertation in French, normally 5,000 words in length including any quotations, on an agreed topic for which the student already possesses adequate foundation knowledge and for which suitable supervision can be provided. During the work placement year, students will collect data for their dissertation and will prepare a plan in French which will be submitted at the beginning of their final year. This will provide a benchmark for writing the dissertation, which will allow any relevant knowledge acquired during the final year to be incorporated.
Assessment: Dissertation = 100%

German (GM) Modules

GM3005 German Language I
Credits: 15.0 Semester: 1
Prerequisites: Compulsory language module for all students in the first semester of the first year of the Honours Programme.
Description: The module aims to develop written and spoken German language skills. Two weekly classes are taught by native-language tutors. Materials used in classes are texts and videotapes in a wide range of registers. Students’ work includes reading comprehension, discussion of issues raised by texts and videotapes, a variety of written responses, and revision of aspects of grammar.
Class Hour: 11.00 am, Tuesday and Friday
Teaching: Two language classes.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour written Examination = 60%

GM3006 German Language II
Credits: 15.0 Semester: 2
Prerequisites: Compulsory language module for all students in the second semester of the first year of the Honours Programme.
Description: The module further develops written and spoken German language skills through work based on texts and videotapes in a range of registers and tasks including reading comprehension, discussion of issues raised by texts and videotapes, written responses, and review of aspects of grammar.
Class Hour: 11.00 am and to be arranged.
Teaching: Two language classes.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour written Examination = 40%, Oral Examination = 20%
GM3051 The German Novel After 1945
 Credits: 15.0  Semester: 1
 Availability: 2005-06
 Description: The module explores the distinguishing features of the German novel after 1945, in particular its themes and narrative strategies, and its relation to conventional realism. The texts are drawn from Switzerland, Austria and both post-war German states, and include works by such writers as Max Frisch, Günter Grass, Thomas Bernhard, Christa Wolf, Monika Maron and Lilian Faschinger.
 Class Hour: To be arranged.
 Teaching: Two seminars.
 Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

GM3063 Humour and Irony in German Women’s Writing
 Credits: 15.0  Semester: 1
 Availability: 2006-07
 Description: Through the examination of a range of texts from Austria, Germany and the former GDR, the module aims to afford critical insight into the humorous and ironic literary strategies which have been adopted by women writers to probe fundamental moral, social and political questions over the past century. Gender issues will be considered, and the texts will be studied in their historical context as products of times of social and/or political transition in the closing years of two centuries and in the Weimar Republic.
 Class Hour: To be arranged.
 Teaching: Two seminars.
 Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

GM3070 Love and War in the Romantic Period
 Credits: 15.0  Semester: 1
 Availability: 2005-06
 Description: This module looks at dramas and stories mainly by Heinrich von Kleist (1777-1811) who embodies more clearly than most the inner tension of his age. His works display poetic strength and a frightening and contradictory world in which individuality and nation, love and war struggle for and against each other. Historically the module will deal with the crucial period of Napoleon’s rule in Europe and the beginnings of modernisation in society. In terms of literature this module introduces material that disturbed contemporary audiences. Kleist was a master of words who depicted characters struggling with language, who stuttered and fainted in the face of extraordinary events.
 Class Hour: To be arranged.
 Teaching: Two seminars.
 Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

GM3071 Recent German Literature
 Credits: 15.0  Semester: 1
 Availability: 2006-07
 Description: The module involves the study of a representative selection of works of recently published German literature. Most set texts have appeared since the mid 1990’s and range from pop literature of the day to classics of tomorrow. Six prose pieces, two collections of poetry and one play will exemplify major trends in present-day German writing. Birgit Vanderbeke, Judith Hermann and Yoko Tawada offer three very different female perspectives which contrast in a productive way with Benjamin von Stuckrad-Barre’s and Albert Ostermaier’s postmodern machismo. Ingo Schulze, as a novelist, as well as Durs Grünbein and Silke Scheuermann as poets offer further insights into the fabric of language and modern life as it unfolds.
 Class Hour: To be arranged.
 Teaching: Two seminars.
 Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%
GM3072 Gender and sexuality in pre-modern German writing

Credits: 15.0  Semester: 1
Availability: 2006-07
Description: This module introduces students to some of the most popular and influential texts of the twelfth to the sixteenth centuries by focusing on the key issue of gender and sexuality. At the same time, students will encounter some classic feminist and queer studies. Juxtaposing contemporary theory and pre-modern writing will enable students to critically engage with both. We will discuss constructions of gender and sexuality in religious and courtly texts; and issues like marriage, cross-dressing, homosexuality and witchcraft.

Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: Two seminars
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

GM3073 The Mediaeval Short Story

Credits: 15.0  Semester: 1
Availability: 2005-06
Description: The earliest German short stories, known as Maren, were funny tales about beautiful princesses, clever wives, stupid priests, wandering body parts, crossed-dressed knights, intrigue and mayhem. Using comedy, they explore some of the most problematic aspects of mediaeval culture, such as class, gender and religion. Long disregarded as popular culture, Maren have recently emerged as one of the most fascinating areas of mediaeval fiction. This module introduces students to the genre and some of its key topics.

Class Hour: To be arranged
Teaching: Two seminars
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

GM3077 The Linguistics of Modern German 1

Credits: 15.0  Semester: 1
Availability: 2006-07
Anti-requisites: LI3001, GM3022, GM4077
Description: The module introduces students to some methods and concepts of descriptive linguistics, as applied to modern German. The theoretical foundation to the module is Saussurean structuralism. Topics covered are: structuralism and the linguistic sign; aspect; the passive construction; two areas of language and politics - feminist linguistics and “Nukespeak”. We consider how the basic tenets of structuralism relate to the grammar, vocabulary and semantics of German, particularly the structuralist claim that each language creates its own reality.

Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: One lecture and one seminar.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

GM3078 The Linguistics of Modern German 2

Credits: 15.0  Semester: 1
Availability: 2005-06
Anti-requisites: LI3001, GM3023, GM4078
Description: The module introduces students to some methods and concepts of descriptive linguistics, as applied to modern German. The theoretical foundation of the module is Saussurean structuralism. Topics covered are: word classes; functions of language; word formation; tense and irregular verbs. We consider how the basic tenets of structuralism relate to the grammar, vocabulary and semantics of German, particularly the structuralist claim that each language creates its own reality.

Semester: Whole Year
Prerequisite: Admission to the Honours Programme with Integrated Year Abroad.
Anti-requisites: GM3103 or Socrates exchange.
Availability: May be subject to restrictions from receiving country.
Description: The objective of the module is language learning and cultural familiarisation through work placement in a German-speaking country. Placements will be as language assistant in a school or on other assignments approved by the department. Formal learning and assessment is through a supervised project chosen in consultation with the module co-ordinator, who will provide more detailed guidelines. The project essay will be 5000 words in German to be received in the department by May 5th.
Assessment: Project Essay = 100%

GM3103 Residential Project in German Speaking Country
Credits: 15.0
Semester: 1
Anti-requisite: GM3101, GM4098
Description: The objective is language learning and cultural familiarisation through self-access residence in a German-speaking country. The student will spend at least six weeks in a German-speaking country. Formal learning and assessment are by means of a project, written up in German on the student’s return. The project will not exceed 5,000 words of writing, though other supplementary material may be included. Enrolment is subject to the discretion of the Chairman of Department.
Assessment: Project = 100%

GM4007 Translation Methodology (German/English)
Credits: 15.0
Semester: 2
Anti-requisite: GM3007
Description: The aim of the module is to develop advanced skills in translating from German into English. The module encourages students to make a careful analysis of the linguistic characteristics of the source texts and to focus on recurrent problems of translation and the methods available for dealing with them. A range of text types including consumer-oriented (technical/commercial), journalistic and literary will be translated into the target language.
Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: Two language classes.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour written Examination = 60%

GM4047 German Cinema
Credits: 15.0
Semester: 2
Availability: 2005-06
Description: This module involves the study of German films from the early twentieth century to the present. It covers not only the whole period of German film history but also a variety of genres and styles ranging from Expressionism and Brecht's work on film through wartime melodrama to both GDR and West-German depictions of the political past and present. The heyday of New German Cinema will be addressed and finally more recent films will be considered. Several of the films presented are set in Berlin, before and after the Second World War and in the present. This focus will assist in the exploration of aspects of political, social and cinematographic development.
Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: Two seminars and one film screening.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%
GM4068 German History 1919-1949
Credits: 15.0 Semester: 2
Availability: 2006-07
Description: The module looks at key topics, periods and personalities of German society and politics between 1919 and 1949. It examines documents from the period in order to obtain a first-hand perspective on the language and society of the time, noting particularly the relationship between language and ideology. Topics to be covered are: the Weimar Republic; the Third Reich; the division of Germany in 1945-1949.
Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: One lecture and one seminar.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

GM4069 German History 1949 to the Present
Credits: 15.0 Semester: 2
Availability: 2005-06
Description: The module looks at key topics, periods and personalities of German society and politics from 1949 to the present day. It examines documents from the period in order to obtain a first-hand perspective on the language and society of the time, noting particularly the relationship between language and ideology. Topics to be covered are: the social, political and economic systems of the Federal Republic of Germany and the German Democratic Republic 1949-89; the Wende and the unification of Germany May 1989-October 1990; Germany since the Wende.
Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: One lecture and one seminar.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

GM4079 Dealing with the Past
Credits: 15.0 Semester: 2
Availability: 2006-07
Description: The module is designed to explore German and Austrian responses to the Third Reich. Dealing with the past is arguably the central preoccupation of texts and film produced in Germany since the Nazi period. The study of different ‘text’ types (for example, fiction, drama, Holocaust poetry, (auto)biography and film) will afford the opportunity to gain an understanding of recent German and Austrian cultural products within their historical context, and to consider questions of gender. By studying a quintessentially German problem, wider issues of the relationship between writing and the past will be addressed.
Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: Two seminars.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

GM4081 Modern Theatre
Credits: 15.0 Semester: 2
Availability: 2006-07
Description: The module involves the study of three major 20th century German dramatists. Bert Brecht is the founding father of epic theatre, the most influential form of political theatre to date. The GDR writer Heiner Müller as his literary heir and the Austrian Nobel Prizewinner Elfriede Jelinek complete the programme. Brecht aimed at establishing a theatre that turned performing and viewing into political processes. He and his successors – however – address audiences that wish to be entertained as well, and they develop new theatrical strategies to put their message across. The study of their plays will afford insight into the historical contexts of pre- and post-war Germany and Austria.
Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: Two seminars.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%
GM4082 German Journalists, 1848-1980
Credits: 15.0  Semester: 2
Availability: 2005-06
Description: The module focuses on the work of four major figures in German journalism. The reportage of Theodor Fontane, Joseph Roth, Egon Erwin Kisch and Sebastian Haffner illuminates the cultural, social and political realities of their successive periods: Wilhelmine Germany, the Weimar Republic and Cold War Germany. It combines objective observation with their subjective responses. Through discussion and critical analysis of selected articles on contemporary topics - including popular culture, crime, modern technology and Prussia - an understanding of the periods and of the stylistic characteristics of the genre, will be gained.
Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: Two seminars.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

GM4083 Terrorism in German Cinema
Credits: 15.0  Semester: 2
Availability: 2006-07
Description: This module enables students to engage with some of the ethical and social aspects of the German post-war film and culture, by analysing films on terrorism in Germany in the 1970s. It will provide an introduction to some of the classics of the New German Cinema as well as to more recent film. In particular, we will discuss the problems of representing reality and history; the cultural and social climate of the 1970s in which both the New German Cinema and the Red Army Faction flourished; and the psychological and political models for explaining terrorism.
Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: Two seminars; plus fortnightly film screenings
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

GM4084 Germany's Monsters
Credits: 15.0  Semester: 2
Availability: 2005-06
Description: This module examines the history of German fiction about monsters, with a focus on three key periods in German culture: the Middle Ages, Romanticism and Expressionism. It will enable students to use monstrosity, the uncanny, the undecidable and trauma as theoretical concepts; to determine the cultural functions of monsters; to explore the tensions that they embody; and to identify and reflect on changing and recurring fears and patterns in text and film over time.
Class Hour: To be arranged
Teaching: Two seminars, plus film screenings
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

GM4098 Dissertation on a German Topic
Credits: 15.0  Semester: Either
Anti-requisite: GM3103, GM3098
Description: The dissertation offers students the possibility of personal advanced study on a topic on which they already have adequate basic knowledge and for which a suitable Supervisor can be found. Guidance will be offered on research methods and on presentation. The Dissertation can be either a) a study of a given body of primary material in a given perspective, or b) a critical review of a range of secondary material on a given subject. It should be 5,000 – 6,000 words in length, be submitted in accordance with guidelines and deadlines, and normally be written in English. The topic must be formally agreed in advance with the Chairman of Department.
Assessment: Dissertation = 100%
GM4099 Long Dissertation on a German Topic

Credits: 30.0  Semester: Whole Year

Anti-requisites: GM4098, IT4099, FR4199, RU4199, SP4099

Description: The dissertation offers students the possibility of personal advanced study on a topic in German on which they already have adequate basic knowledge and for which a suitable Supervisor can be found. Extracts of other works will be read in relation to the Questione della lingua. The literary, social and political background will be introduced through close study of the texts.
Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: Two hours.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%
IT3019 Contemporary Italian Narrative and Poetry

Credits: 15.0
Semester: 1
Availability: 2005-06

Description: The module offers an insight into the works of contemporary Italian writers, with a particular focus on the 1980s and 1990s. The texts that will be studied are selected from a variety of writers and will be analysed in the original language. Through the reading of selected authors (from Pier Vittorio Tondelli to pulp-fiction writers such as Silvia Ballestra and Aldo Nove) students will be exposed to the different ways in which contemporary writers represent themselves in the reality of contemporary Italy. An element of contemporary Italian history will inform the module. Students will be encouraged to develop their own critical approach to the analysis of literature.

Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: One lecture and one seminar
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

IT3022 Nineteenth-Century Literature

Credits: 15.0
Semester: 1
Availability: 2006-07

Description: This module studies literature and thought of the nineteenth century, considered in its historical context. It focuses on works by Manzoni and Verga, and on topics such as the writer’s relationship to society and the nature of literary representation.

Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: Two hours.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

IT3035 Italian Detective Fiction

Credits: 15.0
Semester: 2
Availability: 2005-06

Description: Detective stories are enormously popular in Italy but the genre has generally been regarded as primarily Anglo-Saxon. The prominence of a number of Italian crime writers in the 1990’s prompted talk of a giallo nazionale and a reconsideration of the history of the genre dating Italian crime fiction back to the nineteenth century. This module studies the history of the detective novel in Italy, considers critical approaches to the genre, and examines the treatment of common features and themes by writers such as Leonardo Sciascia, Giorgio Scerbanenco, Umberto Eco, Carlo Lucarelli, Loriano Macchiavelli, and Andrea Camilleri.

Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: 2 lectures/seminars
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

IT3037 Contemporary Italian Women Writers

Credits: 15.0
Semester: 2
Availability: 2005-06

Description: Since the Second World War the role of women in Italy has undergone profound and rapid change. Women writers have reflected these changes in their fiction. This module explore the development of female identity, considers the ways in which women writers have responded to social, political and cultural changes, and examines common themes such as women’s autobiography, the mother and daughter relationship, and the body, as treated by contemporary writers such as Anna Banti, Luisa Passerini, Mariateresa Di Lascia, Elena Stancanelli.

Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: 2 lectures/seminars
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

Teaching: One 2 hour seminar.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

IT4012 Dante Alighieri
Credits: 15.0  Semester: 2
Description: It is no exaggeration to say that, for a variety of reasons, Dante Alighieri is the single most important figure in the history of Italian literature. This module completes the study of Dante by looking at his work before and after the Inferno. Before the Inferno, Dante was best known as the author of the Vita nuova. This is our first text for study. Less read and more difficult, according to Dante himself, the Paradiso concludes the Commedia and is our other text for study. To complete our examination of Dante's ideas, reference will also be made to the Convivio, the Monarchia, and the De vulgari eloquentia, as well as to the Purgatorio and Inferno.
Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: Two lectures/seminars.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, Two Hour Examination = 60%

IT4013 Modern Italy through Cinema
Credits: 15.0  Semester: 2
Description: This module offers a perspective on historical as well as present views/conceptions of Italy, through the study of films by Italian directors such as: Luchino Visconti, Roberto Rossellini, Nanni Moretti and Gianni Amelio. There are about twenty screenings of selected cinematic texts in Italian with English subtitles. There is a greater in-depth analysis of between seven and nine films in classes. Students will be encouraged to develop their own critical approach through seminars and discussion. An element of Italian history will inform the module.

IT4014 Female Literary Representations in the Italian Renaissance
Credits: 15.0  Semester: 2
Description: The module will explore the problematic relationship of women and culture in the early modern period by focussing on changes in the representation of the female in Italian literature in the course of the sixteenth century. Renaissance notions of the female self will be examined from differing perspectives, from the idealised forms of Petrachism to the disenchanted reality of the courtesans. Key themes, such as the reinterpretation of mythological figures and the self-representation of female writers will be considered, as well as the work of writers such as Stampa, Colonna and Franco, the module will also study examples of the visual representation of the female.
Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: One lecture and one seminar.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, Two Hour Examination = 60%
IT4015 Literary Transvestism in Italian Literature

Credits: 15.0  Semester: 1

Description: The module looks at literary texts that have been written or re-narrated from the point of view of the opposite sex to that of the author. This phenomenon has recently been described as literary transvestism. This creates a variety of effects in the resulting texts, ranging from mere masquerade, to issues dealing with sexuality and gender, and even fetishism and pathology. The module will study texts such as Cesare Pavese’s La bella estat and Tra donne sole, Alberto Moravia’s La romana and La ciociara, and Elena Ferrante’s L’amore molesto. In addition a number of films will be studied which are relevant to the texts and the theme of transvestism.

Class Hour: To be arranged.

Teaching: One lecture and one seminar.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, Two Hour Examination = 60%

IT4024 Authority and subversion in Renaissance Italy

Credits: 15.0  Semester: 2

Availability: 2005-6

Description: This module studies literary experimentation in the Italian Renaissance and the more general rethinking of literature and poetry integral to this period. This is done through the study of burlesque, satirical and popular writing as well as more accepted forms of literature, by both mainstream and marginalized authors, such as Aretino, Basile, Berni, Cellini Folengo, Gelli, Michelangelo. Students will thus acquire a comprehensive understanding of the variety of Renaissance literary production, of the modernity and multiplicity of its forms, and of its subversive potential.

Class Hour: To be arranged.

Teaching: One lecture and one seminar.

Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

Linguistics (LI) Modules

LI3001 General Linguistics I: Saussurean Structuralism

Credits: 15.0  Semester: 1
Prerequisite: LI2002, or admission to an Honours degree in any subject other than Linguistics
Anti-requisites: GM3077, GM3078

Description: This module uses the ideas of Saussurean structuralism to investigate the notion that 'objective reality' is created by the structure of language and other human attributes, and specifically the notion that the world without an observer is not there. Firstly, the structuralism of Ferdinand de Saussure is discussed, which claims that every language is a system whose units are determined by their place in the system. Saussurean structuralism then forms the background to an examination of three grammatical categories: aspect, the passive, and tense. The main language of illustration is English, with some mention of German, Russian, French, and other languages. The module is of interest to and is accessible to, not just linguists, but philosophers, anthropologists, psychologists, literature students, and other disciplines.

Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: One-and-a-half hours.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

LI3002 General Linguistics II: Language Variation and Change

Credits: 15.0  Semester: 2
Prerequisites: LI3001 or one of FR3053, GM3077, GM3078, IT3009, ML3009, RU3015, RU3107, SP3011.

Description: This module initiates Junior Honours students into the implications of language variation at Honours level, both for synchronic description and for language change, and takes its material from the domains of phonetics, phonology, morphology, syntax and lexis. Variation in a language is particularly significant because it provides information both about the language’s past and, on the basis of present variation, about its possible future.

Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: One-and-a-half hours.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

LI4001 General Linguistics III: Semantics and Discourse

Credits: 15.0  Semester: 1
Prerequisite: LI3002 or LI4098

Description: This module initiates Senior Honours students into the organisation and transmission of meaning through lexis and discourse.

Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: One-and-a-half hours.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

LI4002 General Linguistics IV: Languages in Contact

Credits: 15.0  Semester: 2
Prerequisites: Two of LI3002, LI4001 or LI4098

Description: This module examines in detail the processes at work in language contact situations. The historical perspective is treated in study of older contacts, such as Norman French/Anglo-Saxon, Polish/Ukrainian, Germanic/Slavonic; current contacts studied include Finnic/Russian, English/the rest of the world.

Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: One-and-a-half hours.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

Credits: 15.0  Semester: 2
Prerequisite: SP3001
Anti-requisites: SP3202, SP3112

Description: The module is part of the Honours core language course for those taking less than 90 Spanish credits. The overall objective is to promote advanced skills in listening, speaking, reading and writing in Spanish. The syllabus combines two main types of material: listening comprehension on the basis of recordings and a selection of texts for the study of different linguistic registers (including dialogues from fictional works and essays, books and sports reviews and written portraits of famous characters from newspapers).

Class Hour: 9.00 am Thursday, plus one practical to be arranged.
Teaching: One class and one practical.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

SP3006 Literary Translation

Credits: 15.0  Semester: 2
Anti-requisite: SP3007

Description: This module is designed to guide and train the student of the Spanish language in the translation of demanding literary texts, both from and into Spanish. The emphasis will be on practical translation. The source texts will be chosen so as to represent a variety of periods, genres and registers. The module has a complementary relationship to language work in the core language modules. It will require systematic use of sources of information about Spanish (e.g. dictionaries, grammars). Emphasis will be placed on the quality of the translation. To achieve that end, the module will be conducted in seminar mode in order to stimulate discussion and revision of draft translations.

Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: Two or three seminars.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%
SP3007 Practical Translation
Credits: 15.0                Semester: 1
Availability: 2005-06
Anti-requisite: SP3006 and/or SP3110
Description: This module is designed to train students in the practice of translation and to develop collaborative skills with other European Universities. Students will acquire an awareness of various approaches to translation, of various registers, and of the different perspectives of intended readerships. The object is to develop linguistic skills by translating 4000 - 6000 words (either a novel or short stories) to be enjoyed by primary school children and to inform them about another country from the E.U. through the provision of specific cultural notes. The module will involve collaboration by e-mail with the other European University to cooperate over the resolution of linguistic problems and provision of cultural information. Because the result will be a publishable text, emphasis will be on the quality of translation and cultural information. To achieve this end, the module will be conducted in seminar mode in order to stimulate discussion and revision of draft translation.
Class Hour: 9.00 – 11.00 am Wednesday.
Teaching: Fortnightly seminars.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

SP3101 Spanish Integrated Year Abroad
Credits: 60.0                Semester: Whole Year
Prerequisite: Admission to the Honours Programme with Integrated Year Abroad.
Anti-requisites: SP4102, SP3103 or Socrates exchange.
Availability: May be subject to restrictions from receiving country.
Description: The objective of the module is language learning and cultural familiarisation through work placements in a Spanish speaking country. Placements will be as language assistants or on other assignments approved by the department. Formal learning and assessment will be through a supervised project chosen in consultation with the module co-ordinator, who will provide more detailed guidelines. The project will be 5,000 words in Spanish to be received by the department by 5 May.
Assessment: Project = 100%

SP3111 Honours Spanish I (Science)
Credits: 15.0                Semester: 1
Availability: 2005-06
Prerequisites: SP2012 (Science) and a pass at Grade 11 or better.
Anti-requisites: SP3001, SP3201, SP3198
Co-requisites: 45 credits in modules offered in the Faculty of Science.
Description: This module is part of the Honours core language course and it develops the communication skills, spoken and written, introduced in SP2000 modules. Material will focus on Science issues and the four skills of reading, listening, speaking and writing are further developed through prepared work, class activities and language practicals. The syllabus will be based on a selection of relevant scientific texts from both Spain and Latin-America which will be used as sources for the study of the Spanish language.
Class Hour: Two classes - to be confirmed and arranged.
Teaching: Language classes
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

SP3143 Literature and Cinema in Spain 1920-1936
Credits: 15.0  Semester: 1
Availability: 2005-06
Anti-requisite: SP3139
Description: In this module students will examine key aspects of the impact of the cinema on the creative imagination in Spain between approximately 1920 and 1936. Attention will be given to experimental films of the period by cinematographers such as Luis Buñuel, as well as to texts that are either influenced by cinematic techniques, written for the cinema or are directly about the cinema.
Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: One-and-a-half hours.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

SP3145 Post-1975 Writing in Spain, I
Credits: 15.0  Semester: 2
Availability: 2005-06
Description: The aim of the module is the close study of a selection of literary texts (works of prose fiction and poetry, in the main) produced in the post-Franco period. These narratives distance themselves from the realist (and experimental) mode of writing that dominated much of the literature produced between 1939 and the 1970s. Instead, they construct subjective worlds that, nevertheless, tend towards a universality of experience and can be seen as part of a process of the gradual 'normalization', Europeanization, and universalisation of Spanish cultural creations.

The selection is likely to include five works written by authors born after the end of the Civil War, such as: A. Bautista, F. Benítez Reyes, J. Cercas, L.A. de Cuenca, L. García Montero, J Marías, E. Mendoza, A. Muñoz Molina, A. Orejudo, A. Pérez-Reverte, S. Puértolas and A. Rosetti. In the case of poetry, a relevant anthology including some of these authors will be recommended.

Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: One lecture and one seminar
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, 2 Hour Examination = 60%

SP3198 Spanish Dissertation (Science)
Credits: 15.0  Semester: either
Prerequisites: Admission to the Honours Programme with Integrated Year Abroad.
Anti-requisites: SP3111, SP3112, SP4198
Co-requisites: 45 credits in modules offered in the Faculty of Science.
Description: This is a self-access module designed for students spending study periods or work placements away from St Andrews in connection with their Honours course in Science. Because such periods away may arise in any of the two semesters of the Junior Honours, this module may be taken in place of any one of modules SP3111-SP3112. It will be assessed by dissertation in Spanish (3000-3500 words) on an approved topic.
Class Hour: not applicable
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 100%
SP3201 Spanish Language, Conflict and Society
Credits: 30.0  Semester: 1
Anti-requisites: SP3001, SP3221
Description: This module is part of the Honours core language and literature course whose overall objective is to promote advanced skills in listening, speaking, reading and writing in Spanish and to lead the Single and Joint Honours student to a sound understanding of important modes of literary expression in Spain and Spanish America. The syllabus of the language component of the module is based on a selection of modern Spanish texts from both Spain and Spanish America which are used as sources for the study of various registers through reading comprehension, precis and rewriting exercises. There will be elements that stimulate a high level of awareness of grammar, involving a full understanding of an array of issues dealt with by Butt and Benjamin. The syllabus of the literature component will involve the study of a selection of canonical texts from Spain and Spanish America which is likely to include works by Fernando de Rojas, Alarcón, Emilia Pardo Bazán, Camilo José Cela and the Mexican film Amores Perros.
Class Hour: 9.00 am Tuesday and Thursday, plus one practical and one seminar to be arranged.
Teaching: One lecture, one seminar, one language class and one language practical.
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 40%, Two 2 Hour Examinations = 60%

SP4098 Dissertation on a Spanish Topic
Credits: 15.0  Semester: Whole Year
Anti-requisites: SP3098, SP4099
Description: This module offers students the possibility of personal advanced study on a topic on which they already have adequate basic knowledge and for which a suitable Supervisor can be found. Guidance will be offered on research methods and on presentation. The Critical Review involves the evaluation of a range of secondary material on a given subject. It should be 5,000 – 6,000 words in length, be submitted in accordance with guidelines and deadlines, and normally written in English. The topic must be formally agreed in advance with the research co-ordinator and potential supervisor.
Class Hour: To be arranged.
Assessment: Dissertation = 100%

SP4099 Long Dissertation on a Spanish Topic
Credits: 30.0  Semester: Whole Year
Anti-requisites: SP3099, SP4098, IT4099, FR4199, GM4099, RU4199
Description: The dissertation offers students the possibility of personal advanced study on a topic on which they already have adequate basic knowledge and for which a suitable Supervisor can be found. Guidance will be offered on research methods and on presentation. The dissertation will, as a rule, consist of a study of a given body of primary material in a given perspective. Its length should be 10,000 words maximum, and it should be submitted in accordance with guidelines and deadlines, and normally written in English. The topic must be formally agreed in advance with both the research co-ordinator and the potential supervisor.
Class Hour: To be arranged.
Assessment: Dissertation = 100%

SP4102 Semester with Study Abroad in Spain
Credits: 30.0  Semester: 1
Prerequisites: SP3202 or SP3002
Anti-requisites: SP4203 or SP4003
Co-requisites: SP4099
Description: The objective of the module is to allow students who are unable to take a year or a semester away from St Andrews to spend one term (September to December) studying in Spain at an institution with which we have a SOCRATES exchange. The students will take a range of approved courses at the host university, Universitat Pompeu Fabra in Barcelona. They will also take SP4099, Spanish Dissertation; a dissertation topic will have been negotiated with their tutors before the summer recess. Preparation for SP4099 will be carried out during their stay in Spain, and continued in St Andrews during January and Semester 2. If places are available, the module can also be open to students who spent their WIYA year at a non-Spanish-speaking country, but not to those who have already spent a SOCRATES year.
Class Hour: To be arranged.
Teaching: By arrangement
Assessment: Continuous Assessment = 100%
SP4103 Residential Project in Spanish Speaking Country

Credits: 15.0  Semester: 1
Prerequisites: SP3002 or SP3202
Anti-requisites: SP4003, SP4203, SP3101, SP3103

Description: The object of the module is language learning and cultural familiarisation through self-access residence in Spain or Spanish America. The student will spend six weeks in a Spanish-speaking country during the summer vacation. There will be an approved project, so that the process of understanding and writing in Spanish is conscientiously and formally addressed. It will be written up on the student’s return and in lieu of SP4003 or SP4203. The project will not exceed 6,000 words, although recorded material and its transcription may be supplementary.

Assessment: Project = 100%

SP4198 Spanish Dissertation (Science)

Credits: 15.0  Semester: either
Availability: 2006-07
Prerequisites: Admission to the Honours Programme with Integrated Year Abroad.
Anti-requisites: SP4097, SP4098, SP3198
Co-requisites: 45 credits in modules offered in the Faculty of Science.

Description: This is a self-access module designed for students spending study periods or work placements away from St Andrews in connection with their Honours course in Science. Because such periods away may arise in any of the two semesters of the Senior Honours, this module may be taken in place of any one of modules SP4113-SP4114. It will be assessed by dissertation in Spanish (3000-4000 words) on an approved topic. For students taking this module in the second semester of their final year of study, there will be the possibility, in discussion with the Course Director, for students to take an Oral Examination, for the sole purpose of determining the award of Distinction in Spoken Spanish.
