

Classics and Robert Graves October 31st 2009. School of Classics, Swallowgate, Butts Wynd, St Andrews. Venue: Room S11 (2nd floor)

10.30 ~ Coffee/tea

11.00 welcome ~ Alisdair Gibson

11-12.00 ~ Sibylle Ihm, Georg-August-University Gottingen 'Robert Graves' "The Greek myths" and matriarchy'

12.-1.00 ~ Philip Burton, University of Birmingham "Essentially a moral problem': the Hows and Whys of Graves' Classical Translations"

1 - 2 ~ Lunch

2 -3.00 ~ Mick Morris, Open University 'Broadcasting the Common Asphodel: Graves and the wireless medium'

3 -4.00 ~ John Burnside, University of St Andrews, 'Graves the poet and Classics'

4- 4.30 Coffee/tea

~ ~ ~

7.15pm drinks at The Central, Market Street

8.15pm Evening meal in the restaurant at The Byre Theatre, St Andrews