Friday June 17, 2011. Symposium to honour

Professor James K. Cameron.

St Mary’s College will be hosting a celebration of Prof Cameron’s career, with talks relating to some aspect of Prof Cameron’s work and scholarly interests (Reformation church, theology and Renaissance humanism, early modern Europe and Scotland) There will be short talks by:

- Prof Euan Cameron (Union Theological Seminary, New York)
- Prof Bruce Gordon (Yale Divinity School)
- Prof Ian Hazlett (University of Glasgow)
- Prof Andrew Pettegree (University of St Andrews)

Location: Senior Common Room, St Mary’s College, South Street, St Andrews. Time: 4pm-6.15pm.

Light refreshments will be served. This is an occasion for former students, colleagues, friends and family, but also anyone who has appreciated Professor Cameron’s work, or who shares some of his enduring interests. For enquiries, please contact Dr Mark W. Elliott (Senior Lecturer in Church History, School of Divinity, St Mary’s College: mwe1@st-andrews.ac.uk /01334-462825) To register please contact: Susan Millar sem3@st-andrews.ac.uk

James K.Cameron: Born in 1924, M.A. (1946 ) and B.D. in Ecclesiastical History (1949) at University of St. Andrews (Scotland), 1949 Jacobus Research Fellow at Hartford Theological Seminary, Hartford, Conn. (USA), Ph.D (1953), ordained Minister of the Church of Scotland 1953, Lecturer in Church History in the University of Aberdeen 1955, Lecturer in Ecclesiastical History in the University of St. Andrews 1956, Professor of Ecclesiastical History 1970-1989, Dean of the Faculty of Divinity 1978-1983, Emeritus Professor in 1989.
His contribution to the field through various articles and books (not least the fine edition of the Letters of John Johnston and Robert Howie) is crowned by his edition of The First Book of Discipline, Edinburgh 1972, as well as his involvement as an editor of the great Theologische Realencyclopedie. He was recognized just after his retirement by a fine Festschrift: Humanism and Reform. The Church in Europe, England and Scotland 1400-1643, edited by James Kirk (Oxford, 1991).

St Mary's College, ca. 1767 by James Oliphant. University of St Andrews, All rights reserved.